

SCENE OF BUILDING COLLAPSE—Ambulances and emergency vehicles stand in front of the new Consumers Power Co. office building which collapsed at Jackson, Mich., Wednesday while concrete was being poured on upper floors. At least 10 workmen were reported killed and some 20 hospitalized.

Rescue Work Halts; Missing Thought Dead

Task of Uncovering Building Wreckage Resumes Later

JACKSON, Mich. (AP)—Workers broke off rescue operations early today in the shattered ruins of a collapsed building, leaving at least six men presumed dead in wreckage that already has yielded four bodies.

The task of uncovering tangled tons of concrete and steel which buried the victims will resume later today. Walls that threaten to fall will be knocked down.

The halt in the digging that had continued throughout the night canceled the last faint hope that some of the trapped workmen would be found alive.

John Schweitzer, a construction superintendent directing the rescue work, said at least six men are still in the wreckage and all are presumed dead.

Fifteen others were injured yesterday when the half-completed office building of the Consumers Power Co. collapsed with a roar.

The four-story structure had been designed to withstand the shock of an A-bomb blast.

The workmen fell to their deaths amid steel girders and concrete floors of the structure.

At Jackson, Miss., the Southern city of the same name, 13 men were injured yesterday in the collapse of a 40-by-40 foot section of a garage as workmen were pouring and smoothing cement in forms. The workmen were thrown 20 feet.

The $2,800,000 Michigan building, scheduled for completion next fall, was to contain five of Consumers Power's 16 principal offices.

The more than 100 workmen on the project had returned from lunch less than a half hour earlier when the east wing of the 200-by-400 foot building gave way. Concrete was being poured for the fourth floor when the collapse came.

Earlier, Frank Herlihy, the general contractor, had made an inspection tour of the building with the plumbing contractor. They found no signs of structural weakness, they said.

Might Shut Door to Efforts...

UN Secretary Uses Full Power to Avert Suez Fight

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld is reported using his full influence to avert a showdown Security Council fight which might shut the door to further U.N. peace efforts in the Suez dispute.

Informed quarters said this was the main theme in the series of private talks Hammarskjöld is having with high ranking diplomats assembling here for the Suez debate beginning in the Security Council tomorrow.

The secretary general was understood to have found substantial support, but Britain and France said they were determined to push their demands for a U.N. endorsement of the plan for international control of the canal approved by the London conference in Mid-August.

Hammarskjöld and his supporters feared that the possibility of future U.N. helplessness might be eliminated if this plan were rejected either by a Soviet veto or through failure to get the necessary 7 votes in the 11-nation council.

Hammarskjöld is trying to enlist support for formation of some kind of negotiating committee to keep the discussions alive without placing the U.N. behind either side in the dispute. The form of the negotiating group and the sponsorship still were under discussion.

One of those backing this idea is Iranian Delegate Djafar Abdol. Diplomatic observers said the United States is interested in this plan, but the U.S. delegation so far has not come out for it publicly.

Pending the arrival of Secretary of State Dulles for tomorrow's meeting, U.S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. has been keeping in close contact with British and French representatives. British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd said yesterday he hoped the United States would support the British-French proposal, but informed sources indicated the

County ASC Office Is Given Deadlines On Agreement Changes

The Pettis County ASC office has received a wire from the state office stating that on farms having wheat allotments only, any 1957 wheat agreement may be revised or terminated by the signers at any time up through the final sign-up date for winter wheat.

On the other hand, if the farm has a soil bank corn base, or any crop allotment other than wheat, 1957 acreage reserve wheat agreements may be terminated by the signers not later than 15 days after the farmer's last 1957 allotment notice has been mailed.

Tulsa Youth's Trial Postponed to Friday

WEST PLAINS, Mo., (AP)—Magistrate W. D. Roberts yesterday postponed until next Friday a preliminary hearing for an 18-year-old Tulsa youth who recently allegedly disarmed two Missouri State highway patrolmen.

The case was reset after the parents of Jerry Ward Davis, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Davis of Tulsa, informed the magistrate they were seeking to arrange legal counsel for their son.

The youth is charged in West Plains with felonious assault with intent to kill growing out of an attack on a deputy sheriff during an escape attempt.

Drought Survey Starts

This Is First Step In State's Appeal For Federal Help; Many Areas Critical

JEFFERSON CITY, (AP)—A statewide survey of drought conditions in Missouri started today as the first step in an appeal for federal aid.

The State Emergency Drought Committee headed by L. C. Carpenter, state commissioner of agriculture, agreed to the county-by-county check after hearing reports of critical conditions in many parts of Missouri.

The committee plans to meet again on Monday to study the county reports and possibly present Missouri's case to Agriculture Secretary Benson when he is in the state next Wednesday.

Carpenter said there is no thought of asking Gov. Phil M. Donnelly to call a special session of the Legislature as he did in 1953-54 to get funds for an emergency hay shipping program.

The committee reached no final conclusions at today's meeting. But the discussion indicated the first goal would be to get the U.S. Department of Agriculture to open up reserve soil bank acres to pasturing and seeding of forage crops.

Murray Colbert, state agricultural stabilization and conservation chairman, said that if the federal government agrees to help, that probably would be the first thing done.

Several committee members agreed that plan offered the best possibility for immediate aid.

Some requests for a new hay shipping program have been received. Previously the state and federal governments shared the cost of such an operation but this time the state has no funds for this purpose.

The county-by-county survey by county drought committees will include information on rainfall so far this year, pasture conditions, amount and condition of fall seeded crops, livestock water supplies and hay and roughage supplies.

Reports already received indicated pastures generally have dried up throughout the state with many farmers already feeding stock from reserves which had been built up for the winter.

"Feeding hay 60 days early," said a report from Washington county. "Too dry to plow."

Other requests for drought aid have come from Caldwell, Lafayette, Carroll, Greene, Cole, Saline, Cass and other counties.

Hennings Will Be Speaker At Luncheon

United States Senator Thomas C. Hennings, Jr., is to be in Sedalia Tuesday. He is to speak at California on Monday night, after which he will come to Sedalia and remain overnight at the Bothwell Hotel.

Tuesday morning he will visit party faithfuls and at noon will be guest at a luncheon to be held in the Pacific Room of the Pacific Cafe, being arranged by County Chairman John C. McCloskey and D. Kelly Scruton, secretary of the county committee.

At the noonday affair The Senator will give a Democratic talk. Due to the limited space at the Pacific Room, anyone desiring to obtain tickets or make reservation may call Chairman McCloskey.

In the afternoon the Senator will meet with friends at the hotel. He leaves at 3:30 o'clock for Butler where he is to address a rally.

Mary Jo Case Is Alternate...

Emilie Dick Is Chosen Local Candidate For the American Royal Queen Contest

Lovely Emilie Dick, 20, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Dick, 1804 South Grand, was chosen as Sedalia's candidate for the American Royal Queen Contest at the Fox Theatre Wednesday night, and Mary Jo Case, 21, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Case, 1016 West Tenth, was selected as the alternate.

Emilie is five-foot-seven, has blue eyes, medium brown hair, an attractive smile, plus charm and personality. Emilie wore a period gown of light rose with net skirt, fitted waist and overskirt of taffeta that tapered from rather short in front to hem length in the back. The full taffeta overskirt was caught up gracefully in both front and back with a number of flat bows of the same material.

Weighing 125 pounds, Emilie has a 33-24-35 figure. She was born in Sedalia and attended Sacred Heart School graduating from Sacred Heart High School.

Employed in her father's store, the State Fair Grocery, Emilie was sponsored by Dr. F. I. Lawrence, who lives near the store. He was certain she would win if she entered. The judges agreed and so did most of the audience, judging from the applause. There was a sparkle about her, along with a naturalness and poise, that seemed to make her stand out.

Emilie loves sports, she likes to roller skate, to ice skate, to ride horseback, to swim, to dance and her ambition is to be an airline hostess. Emilie is also a good cook and housekeeper, according to her mother.

The queen candidate will receive a four-day trip to Kansas City which will include much activity and entertainment and an opportunity to compete in the American Royal Queen Contest. She was very thrilled and so were her parents. Emilie is the only girl in her family; there are four boys.

The contest Wednesday night was sponsored by the Lions Club, their first time to sponsor such a contest, and it was the largest number of contestants, too. The three judges—Mrs. Will Berry, Versailles; Steve Soutter, Marshall, and Homer Stanfield, Boonville—had a difficult job of choosing the queen candidate, there were so many very pretty girls in formals, long and short, of every color of the rainbow.

Emilie was crowned queen candidate with a crown of yellow chrysanthemums and was presented an arm bouquet of large white mums by Bob Cain, president of the Lions Club. She was also presented a gift from the club and a number of nice gifts from various local merchants.

Mary Jo Case, the alternate, is five-foot-two, with blue eyes and long, very dark hair. She has a dimple in her right cheek. Mary Jo wore a deep blue formal of net, fashioned with fitted waist and full-tiered skirt. She was born in Sedalia, attended Texas State College for Women, Denton, Tex., graduating in three years, and is now music teacher at Horace Mann School, teaching 500 youngsters from the first to seventh grades. A good percentage of them were there to root for her, too. In a year or so Mary Jo plans to go to Europe to teach at the Army personnel bases.

Other girls competing were Dorothy Bohon, Joyce Ann Craig, Berlene Curtis, Pat Eaton, Peggy Garanson, Barbara Grady, Pat Kreeger, Alice Louise Lange, Carol Jean Means, Mary Lou Mitchell, Rosalie Moore, Nancy Jean Pace, Anne Sagar, Betty Lou Schlobohm, Rosemary Sedlak, Elinor Van Dyke, Donna Wampler, Patricia Watring and Anna Mae Walter.

Jimmy Glenn and Jack Delph, as co-masters of ceremonies, kept things moving with plenty of humor, and music throughout the contest was furnished by Bob Cummings' orchestra.

Peggie Hewitt Homan, who assisted the Lions Club in rehearsals and presentation, will be the chaperone for Emilie to Kansas City.

5 Whiteman Men Injured In Car Crash

Deer Runs Across Road, Is Killed In Headon Wreck

Three Whiteman Air Force Base airmen and two officers were injured Tuesday evening in a head-on collision on the Knob Noster State Park access road which leads to the west gate of the base. The mishap involved two cars and a deer—the deer, the only fatality, being the cause of the accident.

Riding in the same car, the three airmen and the injuries they sustained were: the driver, A-1c Dempsey, broken nose, cuts and bruises; A-3c Kenneth Hamming, facial cuts; and A-3c Reese Wilson, concussion and possible internal injuries. They were taken to the base hospital and remained there after emergency treatment.

In the other car were Maj. Joseph Sacco, driver and Captain Dewey Smith, both of whom were taken to the air base hospital, treated for minor cuts and released.

It was reported Dempsey was driving toward the base about 9:30 p. m. when a deer appeared in the road ahead of him. He swerved into the opposite lane to avoid striking the animal but instead crashed head-on with the auto driven by Maj. Sacco. Despite Dempsey's efforts, the deer was struck and killed. Sacco and Smith were traveling from the base and were reportedly returning to their homes in Warrensburg. The three airmen were on their way to the base.

Airmen Dempsey, Hamming and Wilson are with the Field Maintenance Squadron at Whiteman; Sacco and Smith are in Headquarters Squadron.

Trooper S. S. Abney of the State Highway Patrol investigated the accident.

Blames Politicians For Slack in State's Education Program

CALIFORNIA, Mo., (AP)—Every attempt to build up Missouri's program of higher education, Republican candidate for governor Lon Hocker says, has been kept down by "politics and the short-sightedness of politicians."

The St. Louis attorney told a GOP rally last night that "the result is that Missouri today is near the bottom of the heap of all the states of America in expenditures for college training."

The state is 42nd among states in its per capita expenditures for higher education, he said, and among 13 comparable Midwestern universities, Missouri ranks ninth in average salaries for professors and last in salaries for other teaching personnel.

He declared that proper handling of idle state funds and collection of state income taxes would provide the money needed for the job.

Hocker said that politicians "year after year have promised to spend more money on the schools and year after year they have failed."

His Staff Reflects Confidence...

Stevenson Firmly Believes He's a Winner This Time

By Joseph Dear

The distinctive thing about the Stevenson of 1956 is that he believes he's a winner. Four years ago he didn't.

His campaign staff reflects his confidence. The line of thinking that produces the optimism goes like this:

The south and the border states are back in the Democratic fold. Maybe Florida and Maryland are Republican still, but even without them, Stevenson starts off with 159 electoral votes. Another 107, and he's in.

The three big states—New York, California and Pennsylvania—could supply the winning margin. Their electoral votes total 109. There are other combinations the campaign numerologists toy with. But there is practically no possible combination that does not include at least one of the three most populous states. And of the three, Pennsylvania looks like the best bet.

Second Series Game Postponed; Weather Threat

BROOKLYN (AP)—Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick today ordered the postponement of today's second game of the World Series between Brooklyn and the New York Yankees because of a light rain and "menacing weather."

The decision came at 11:03 a. m. (EDT) after a conference of Frick with managers Casey Stengel of the Yankees and Walter Alton of the Brooklyn Dodgers and the umpires.

The huddle was held in the Brooklyn dugout at Ebbets Field while a light sprinkle fell on the diamond, which was covered by a tarpaulin.

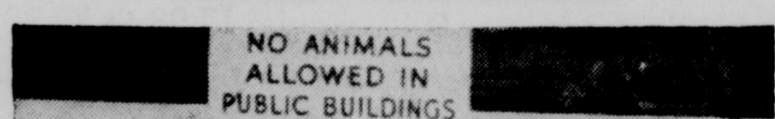

"These conditions are all right for playing," the commissioner said, "but the forecast for general, and possibly heavier rains, this afternoon have forced us to call off the game."

Calhoun Man Is Arrested In Shooting

He Is Arraigned On Intent to Kill; Bond Set at $15,000

Elmer "Toad" Young, 47, Calhoun, has been charged with assault with intent to kill in connection with the shooting of his wife, Mrs. Nadre Young, 34, at their home. The shooting took place about 9 p. m. Monday.

Young was arraigned before Judge Mark Wilson, Henry County magistrate, and his bond was set at $15,000 pending the setting of a hearing. Unable to furnish bond, Young was committed to the county jail in Clinton.

Mrs. Young was reported today as being in a critical condition, but slightly improved, at the Wetzel Hospital in Clinton where she was taken by her husband immediately after the shooting.

Prosecuting Attorney William J. Cason, Henry County, said today he had talked with Mrs. Young at the hospital but as yet had not had a report on the lie detector test which Young agreed to and took on Tuesday.

"However," he said, "I am not entirely satisfied as to just what had occurred and have filed the charges against her husband pending further investigation."

Young was reported to have told Prosecuting Attorney Cason he was holding the gun and it accidentally discharged. Officers were of the opinion the gun was held at close range and as close as eight inches from Mrs. Young when it was discharged.

Mrs. Young was shot in the left side and the left hand the two smaller fingers being blown off and the hand partially destroyed. There were 28 pellets removed from the abdomen by surgery at the hospital.

The gun from which the shot was fired was described as a .16-gauge, and was obtained at the Young home by the woman's father, Roy Carroll, according to Marshal O. W. Lewis of Windsor.

Young, after the shooting, took his wife to the hospital and later departed before officers arrived there, driving back to Windsor. His car was found parked south of the Windsor city limits. He was picked up shortly after midnight Tuesday morning and has since been held by Henry County authorities.

Old Movies On TV May Bring Changes

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"I think the coming year is going to bring a lot of changes to a lot of careers." This was Dick Powell's comment on the glut of old motion pictures on the TV market.

There has been much speculation about what this will do to the theater business. But what will it do to the stars?

Clark Gable and Judy Garland are among those whose voices have been raised in protest against the wholesale showing of their old films on TV. Powell believes stars have reason to worry.

"All these pictures on TV are going to hurt some people," he said. "You take a star who is getting along in years. The public will see him as a young performer in the old movies on TV, then find he has aged 20 years when they see him in a new movie."

"There's another thing. Styles have changed. A girl may have looked glamorous in the styles of 15 and 20 years ago, but today's audience might think she looks ridiculous. That's bound to hurt."

"And there is simply the frequency of exposure. If the public sees John Wayne in four pictures on TV in one week, will they want to pay to see him in a new movie?"

Powell said all this in discussing his own career. I found him in his office at 20th Century-Fox, where he is a producer-director.

His acting these days is confined to appearing as host of the new Zane Grey TV series to appear on CBS Friday nights.

Powell's last theater movie was "Susan Slept Here," made more than two years ago. This has been the longest screen absence for the star, who found fame first as a musical star and then as a tough guy.

"I've had it," he said. "I'm tired of holding my stomach in. I never got much of a kick out of acting, anyway."

"The production side is much more fun," he said.

Officers, Wives Hear Dr. Walter Speak on Trip

Officers of Whiteman Air Force Base and their wives heard a talk by Dr. A. L. Walter and saw colored slides of his recent trip to Russia at the Officers' Club Tuesday evening.

Dr. Walter went on the trip, which lasted from Aug. 8 to Sept. 1, with a group of Sedalians and in addition to his 15-day stay in the U.S.S.R. visited Denmark, Finland, Poland, Czechoslovakia, and East and West Germany.

While in Russia, Dr. Walter and his party were taken on tours of Leningrad, Kiev, Odessa and Moscow supervised by the Soviet travel agency, "Intourist." The entire visit was planned and conducted by "Intourist" but Dr. Walter said that his group was given a chance to take pictures at random with the exception of strategic areas such as military installations.

Highlights of the Sedalia physician's stay in Russia included visits to the aforementioned cities, collective farms, Red Square and the tomb of Stalin and Lenin. Officers and their wives attending the program Tuesday evening will have a chance to see the pictures taken of these places plus a first hand explanation by Dr. Walter.

Pettis Countians Get Chick Raising Award

Chris Yoder of Green Ridge and Harry Simmons of Houstonia have won membership in a national chick-raising honor club sponsored by the Moorman Manufacturing Co., Quincy, Ill.

They were among members of the feed company's 1956 "Beat the Experts" Chick-raising Club in 19 states announced this week.

Each winner raised chicks to eight weeks of age with an average of not more than 2½ pounds total feed per pound of body weight.

The national average is four pounds of feed. Poultry experts say that three pounds is very good and that 2½ pounds is outstanding.

Winners' superior care, feeding and management of their chicks enabled them to "beat the experts."

Vocational Rehabilitation--

State Education Counselor
Is Speaker at Sorosis Club

"What We Are Doing About Vocational Rehabilitation in Missouri" was the subject on which Tennis Harrold, counselor in vocational rehabilitation, State Department of Education, Jefferson City, talked Monday afternoon at Sorosis.

The first federal act on rehabilitation was in 1920, the speaker said, and the first rehabilitation efforts in Missouri began in 1923. In 1934 the act was passed by Missouri and in 1943 the physical restoration program began. Until the specialized vocational training program started, there was not a great deal done in helping these handicapped people find jobs.

Jefferson City is the headquarters and there are six districts over the state, each with six or seven counties, Harrold said.

This program, he pointed out, would be ineffective without the help of physicians, the welfare office and the unemployment office. The person to be helped must be 16 years of age or older, his condition static, his disability known as well as his mentality and interests. Too, there must be financial need. The state provides the training program and often the maintenance, transportation, clothes and occupational tools.

The placement program, he said, is to learn as much as possible about the employers who will give an opportunity to the handicapped to work. There must be interviews, and handicapped persons may try out for six months. If he is doing satisfactorily he is then on his own. If he isn't, then they must try again, with a different kind of work he can do.

The most successful cases are polio victims, while the cerebral palsied victims are just the opposite.

Harrold told of several cases, one of a 19 year old girl who was in a wheelchair and was graduated from high school. She couldn't go on because she couldn't live alone. She was unable to provide for her own needs. She went to the Rehabilitation Institute in Kansas City, he said, and in five weeks under guidance and therapy was able to take care of herself and could do everything for herself except pull her wheelchair into a car. She attended Junior College in Kansas City, then the University of Illinois, and is now a social work interrogator.

Another case the speaker told of was of a young man 24 years old with a seventh grade education who was afraid of the outside world and afraid to leave his family. A Mrs. Scott, in welfare work in Moniteau County, was able to get him interested when others failed. He was crippled from the waist down. He was able to do everything except put his socks on, so they got braces for him which enabled him to even do that. He now has a job in Jefferson City.

Not all cases, said Harrold, are successful, but the ones that are successful are really remarkable, he said, and more of this great work should be known. Right now there are cases in Pettis County that are being studied and helped.

The high schools are a great aid in finding those who need help. After the first of the year's work is closed in high school the rehabilitation counselors work closely with the schools. They want only seniors and plan for them. Others are found through registration of people for employment, others through welfare. This program, he said, is for civilians only, unless the disability is non-service.

The federal government and state financially sponsor the program jointly, the federal government paying $1.77 for each dollar spent by the state.

The tuition and fees are free and anyone is eligible. The transportation, clothing and other things depend upon the need.

The thing to remember, said Harrold, is that the person must be more important than his disability.

Mrs. Chester L. Wolfe, history and literature chairman, announced that the program next week will be Mrs. C. W. Kemper, associated with the Clinton Eye, Clinton. A luncheon will precede the meeting.

A luncheon preceded the meeting honoring the new members, Mrs. James E. Alexander, Mrs. Karl Baunier, Mrs. Thomas J. Hopkins, Miss Marian Phipps, Mrs. Gerald Cain, Mrs. Frank Hayes, Mrs. Herbert Mason, Mrs. Myrtle Vest Johnson, Mrs. John W. Hicks, Mrs. John Allen Bloess, Mrs. R. M. Stonner and Mrs. Morrison Walters.

Also attending the luncheon were the sponsors of the new members, past presidents and officers of the organization.

Mrs. Harold Dean, president, conducted the meeting, introduced the officers and past presidents, and called on the chairmen of the various committees to tell the new members what their duties are and explain the different funds and investments. Invocation was given by Mrs. T. W. Croxton.

Mrs. E. G. Yancey spoke briefly on the Helen G. Steele Music Club.

The luncheon arrangements were made by Mrs. William P. Hurley, chairman of the social committee, and members of her committee, Mrs. Leon Archias, Mrs. Richard Dean, Mrs. A. K. Downs, Mrs. P. J. Hedderich, Mrs. William

Building Falls In Michigan, Killing Six

JACKSON, Mich. (AP) — With a roar like the sound of an exploding bomb, a half-completed four-story office building collapsed without warning yesterday while dozens of men were working inside.

At least six workmen fell screaming to their deaths amid steel girders and chunks of concrete that crashed through all four floors.

Fifteen others were injured and at least four still unaccounted for were feared dead beneath the wreckage. The building, which was to contain offices of the Consumers Power Co., was designed to withstand the shock of an A-bomb blast.

"It all happened so fast I didn't get to see very much," said Russell Taylor, 64, a carpenter who was inside the building.

"There was a cloud of dust and it was over in about three seconds. Shortly afterward I could hear the screams of the men who were trapped."

J. H. Crowe, a carpenter who had left the building moments before, said "it sounded like a big bomb exploding."

Weary rescue squads, using bulldozers, cranes and sometimes bare hands, dug at the debris throughout the night in the faint hope the four trapped workmen would be found alive.

A tense moment came late last night when noisy generators and rescue machinery were shut off for 10 minutes while a dozen workers went far down into the debris to listen for moans or a sound that would indicate life.

But all was silent and the men returned wearily to dig some more.

During the silence, the Rev. Francis Desmond pastor of Jackson's Miraculous Medal Roman Catholic church, led the huge crowd of onlookers in the Lord's Prayer.

Relatives of missing men stayed at the scene through the long night under the glare of floodlights.

One wing of the building, designed to keep power flowing to Michigan's mighty industry in the event of enemy attack, caved inward about 1:30 p.m. EST yesterday as it pulled down by an invisible force.

Its four heavy floors crumbled one by one and telescoped into the basement. About 40 electricians were working on the floor that gave way. Several were able to leap to sections that remained standing, but more than a score were trapped.

Doctors and nurses gave pain-killing drugs and first aid as battered victims were dragged clear to waiting ambulances. Clergymen gave comfort and the last rites of the church.

All the city's ambulances were called to the scene three miles north of Jackson just off U.S. 127. State Police and Jackson County law officers were quickly joined by Civil Defense workers and Red Cross personnel. Jackson is about 70 miles west of Detroit.

"Thank You"

With the activities of County Achievement Day the program planning committee and we in the extension office wish to say "Thank You" to every extension club member present which numbered over 300. The interest and cooperation shown by everyone really made it "Your Day." A special "Thank You" to Mrs. Walter Kraft who so capably presided during the day. Mrs. Ralph Thomas who organized the Style Revue and acted as moderator and also the 81 club members who participated in the style revue. To sum up the style revue we might say the dresses were attractive and fit the wearer. As someone said, "They sure did not look homemade," which is a compliment to both the persons wearing the dresses and to their leaders. Others who added to the day's program and to whom we say "Thank You" are Mrs. Floyd Thomason for the invocation, Mrs. Nolan Dorrance and Mrs. Richard Mills for their duet, Mrs. Paul Stephens for telling us how the turkey was cooked and Ted Joule who did such a fine job of carving the turkey. Behind the scene was Mrs. Albert Runge and her church circle who prepared the turkey luncheon and served 217 persons in less than an hour.

A special "Thank You" also goes to the boys quartette from Smith-Cotton High School who sang four selections, one being our next year's club song "Side by Side." Mrs. E. L. Bohon Jr. in her report to the extension club members present deserves a "Thank You" for a job well done. Words cannot express the "Thank You" to Mrs. L. W. Lingle in her illustrated talk which took us behind the Iron Curtain. "Thank You" to Mrs. Calvert Ruffin in obtaining her for our speaker. Others who assisted with the day's activities and who need a special "Thank You" are Mrs. J. L. Knight, Mrs. Pete Fidler, Mrs. Joe Reine and Mrs. Roy Ream, who presided at the registration table, Mrs. Charles Keele and Mrs. John Silsby who collected dues and contributions; Mrs. Everett Vannoy and Mrs. Ella Brandhorst who collected Pennies for Friendship, Mrs. William Kraft, Mrs. Fred Staley, Mrs. James McFetrich and Mrs. Glen Miller who collected luncheon tickets, Mrs. John Linville, Mrs. H. H. Nutt and Mrs. E. E. Barlick who had charge of the courtesy parking tickets, Mrs. L. F. Raabe, Mrs. Leonard DeBord, Mrs. J. J. Murry and Mrs. J. T. Edmundson who assisted the ladies at the steps during the style revue and installation services; Mrs. Paul Stephens and Mrs. John Silsby who assisted with the installation services, Mrs. Ted Dabner who took movies of the entire Achievement Day program. Also "Thank You" to the management of Fox Theatre for providing the meeting place, the Sedalia police department for the use of the 100 courtesy parking tickets, the First Methodist Church for the use of the dining hall for the luncheon, the Sedalia Democrat for the publicity. We were happy to have Miss Hazel Lang from this newspaper present during the day. We also want to say "Thank You" to the Missouri Turkey Growers Federation for providing part of the turkey for the luncheon.

If we have missed saying "Thank You" to anyone we are sorry.

How the Extension Clubs Scored in 1956

With the Standard of Achievement as a flexible guide the extension clubs planned and carried out a well rounded program during the year. Each club's report was reviewed by a committee of council members and recommendations were made to our state leader, Mrs. Kathryn Zimmerman, for approval of certificates of awards. Clubs scoring 80 to 99 points were presented the State Standard Achievement Award with those scoring 95 and over receiving a gold seal on their certificate. Clubs scoring below 80 received the County Certificate. Three clubs did not report their accomplishments in time to be reviewed.

Gold Seal clubs are Bothwell Homemakers, Dresden Homemakers, Flat Creek, Hughesville, Longwood, Maplewood Better Homes, Ringen Neighbors, Smelser Willing Workers, Smithton Home Economics, Striped College and Sunny-side.

State Certificate winners in addition to the gold seal clubs were Bryson, Camp Branch, Eldorado.

Gretchen Vedder, Albert Blakey Pledge Vows

Miss Gretchen Ann Vedder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wentworth D. Vedder, McClellan Heights, Pa., and Albert Gallatin Blakey III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gallatin Blakey Jr., Hillcroft Park, Pa., were united in marriage at 8:30 p.m. September 14 at the Episcopal Church of St. John the Baptist. The Rev. David B. Birney officiated at the single ring ceremony, performed by candlelight in a setting of white fall flowers.

Robert Barley, organist, played "Trumpet Voluntary" (Purcell) and "Wedding March" (Mendelssohn).

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a princess style gown of Alencon lace and white satin, fashioned with an empire waistline, long lace sleeves trimmed with seed pearls, and a wide skirt with a court train. A small cap of lace and seed pearls held the fingertip-length illusion veil. The bride carried lilies-of-the-valley upon a white prayer book.

Miss Christina Vedder was maid of honor for her sister. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Rockwell L. Brown Jr., Waukesha, Wis., sister of the bridegroom; Mrs. Wentworth D. Vedder Jr., sister-in-law of the bride; Miss Deborah Harvey of Boston, Mass., and Miss Elizabeth Haire, Newport, R.I. They wore floor-length gowns of pale amber taffeta and wreaths of ivy in their hair. They carried bouquets of multi-colored fall flowers.

Miss Teresa Leigh Brown, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl in a similar gown of pale green taffeta.

Wentworth D. Vedder Jr. served as best man. Ushers were Rockwell L. Brown Jr. and Herbert P. Ferris, Waukesha, Wis.; Robert Jeffrey, Chatham, N.J.; Arthur Singer, Cambridge, Mass.; David L. Beecher and John Funk.

A reception followed at the Country Club of York. The couple will live in York, Pa., after a wedding trip to Bermuda.

The bride is a graduate of the Baldwin School, Bryn Mawr, and of Smith College. Until recently she was employed by Ward Howell Associates Inc., New York City. Her husband was graduated from William Penn Senior High School, Williams College and Yale University Law School. He is practicing law with the firm of Fisher, Porter, May and Beers.

The bridegroom's mother is the former Miss Mary Ann Russell of this city. Mrs. C. B. Russell, 1824 East Broadway, is his maternal grandmother.

California CWF Holds CWF Birthday Meeting

The California Christian Church CWF met at the church Wednesday evening for its regular meeting with 43 members present.

Mrs. R. L. Hert was program leader with the topic, "One Great Fellowship in Love." The program was presented in the form of a television program with Mrs. Kenyon acting as emcee. Others assisting on the program were Mrs. Oscar Wegener, Mrs. A. K. Reed, Mrs. Luther Higgins, Mrs. Raymond Lawson, Mrs. G. L. Howard and Mrs. Claude English.

Miss Ella Hert and Miss Laura Meyer gave the devotional. Mrs. A. K. Reed had arranged a table decorated with dressed dolls to represent foreign countries.

Mrs. B. F. Houser served as president for the meeting in the absence of Mrs. E. A. Kibbe, who recently underwent surgery and is a patient in St. Mary's Hospital in Jefferson City.

A birthday cake adorned the dining table and was topped with one candle in honor of the first birthday anniversary of the world CWF.

Refreshments were served in the church dining room after the meeting and the hostesses were Mrs. William R. Allen, Mrs. Oscar Wegener, Mrs. Clyde Sappington and Mrs. Fred Ziebold.

Norma Lea Lang Becomes Bride Of Mr. Franken

Miss Norma Lea Lang, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe A. Lang of Boonville, was married to Raymond Franken, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Franken, Tipton, September 1 at 8:30 a.m. at St. Martin's Catholic Church. The Rev. J. W. Jaworski performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of snow white Chantilly lace and gossamer nylon tulle over bridal satin, styled with a snug fitting bodice and long lace sleeves tapering to traditional points over the hands. The bodice was fashioned with a scalloped sabrina neckline, with an inset of lace extending almost to the waist. The voluminous skirt, worn over hoops, was highlighted with a band of lace around the hipline topped with applied medallions of Chantilly lace. The fingertip veil of imported illusion was held by a small tiara of seed pearls and rhinestones. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. She carried a purple throatie white orchid mounted on a white prayer book, and tied with satin streamers.

Mrs. Pat H. Franken, cousin of the bride, and sister-in-law of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. She wore a ballerina length gown of light blue taffeta fashioned with a light blue nylon lace overskirt with a panel of pleated nylon net on the flared skirt and styled with a fitted empire bodice of light blue nylon lace. Her head piece was a half bonnet of light blue trimmed with matching sequins and a short veil. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations.

Miss Irene Lang, of Kansas City, was bridesmaid and wore a pink gown and pink head piece identical to that worn by the matron of honor. She carried a colonial bouquet of blue carnations.

Miss Donna Kay Lang, of Boonville, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a floor length gown of light blue taffeta fashioned with an overskirt of light blue nylon net and a fitted bodice with a scalloped neckline. She carried a small basket of white and yellow daisies.

Nixon Reports On Campaign Tour Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Nixon reports to the nation tonight on his 32-state campaign tour that ended last night in Philadelphia with a blast at what he called Adlai Stevenson's "casual tropic nonsense."

The GOP's campaign workhorse will make his first national television appearance (NBC-7:30 p.m. EST) of the 1956 campaign, in what the republican national committee billed as "another first." Political writers in eight cities visited by Nixon on his airborne campaign tour that traveled 15,000 miles in 16 days will quiz him on his findings in an unrehearsed program.

Nixon will rest here for five days and confer with party officials and President Eisenhower before leaving next Tuesday on another swing that will take him to 14 states in 10 days.

He arrived at National Airport here late last night after a wind-up foreign policy speech in Philadelphia, last stop on the trip that took him up and down the Pacific Coast, into the Northwest through the Farm Belt, into the South and the Southwest and into New England.

He chose "The City of Brotherly Love" to answer Stevenson's proposal in New Jersey on Tuesday that President Eisenhower take the lead in seeking a ban on hydrogen bomb tests.

That, Nixon said in the sharpest speech he made during the entire trip, "is one of the most extraordinary, appalling statements in the history of American political campaigning" and "a grave doubt as to whether the Stevenson has the judgment, the responsibility and the temperament to lead the United States and the free world in this critical period."

Stevenson's campaign statements both on foreign and domestic subjects, Nixon charged, are "terribly damaging to America's interests abroad" and are providing "grist for the propaganda mills" of those seeking to woo the uncommitted peoples of the world to the cause of communism.

Stevenson's "shotgun attacks" on the policies of "a president who is a symbol of peace throughout the world," Nixon said, hurt America abroad and do not help Stevenson at home.

"Russia is still surrounded by an iron curtain," he said, "and for us to agree, as Mr. Stevenson suggests, to discontinue (H-bomb) tests before we have a fool proof inspection system would be just like playing Russian roulette, but with only the Russians knowing which chamber has the fatal bullet in it."

Blair Says Missouri Needs Disaster Fund, Group to Handle

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Lt. Gov. James T. Blair Jr., says Missouri needs a million dollar disaster emergency fund and a permanent committee to administer it.

The Democratic nominee for governor pledged yesterday that if elected he would ask the Legislature to set up the fund and a committee of 12 to handle it—four senators, four representatives and four appointed by the governor. Seven of the 12 would be farmers.

"Right now," Blair said, "Missouri is not prepared to cope with the drought situation in this state."

Blair said the money should be available for emergency drought needs or in case of floods, tornadoes or other disasters. He charged "The Republican national administration has shown that it will not and is unable to handle this problem."

Ungracious Party Line Manners Cause Delay On Emergency Call

It is sometimes an inconvenience to be on a telephone party line but good telephone manners must be observed for the safety of others on that line. This was borne out shortly after 1 a.m. Thursday, when a youth was hurt in an accident and police tried to call his parents.

While police had the call placed for the boy's parents, someone on the party line became annoyed by the ringing of the phone and lifted the receiver from the phone cradle and laid it down to stop the ringing.

As a result, the boy's parents could not be contacted by telephone and a police car had to be sent to the residence to notify them.

Emergency Hay Okay For State of Kansas

TOPEKA (AP)—The way was cleared today for a $500,000 emergency federal-state hay program to help drought-stricken Kansas farmers.

Gov. Fred Hall, who had been involved in legal differences with the attorney general, said he had worked out an agreement with the U. S. Department of Agriculture so that the program can be started.

Alcoholic Robins Revel in Cherry Brew

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Mrs. Fred Fuller reports a flock of alcoholic robins are having a daily cocktail party in a cherry tree in her yard in suburban Loudonville.

She says the birds fall, execute reckless aerial maneuvers, crash against windows and end glassy-eyed and grounded.

Ed Lee, an assistant brewmaster at a local beer company, says fermentation of fallen cherries might be the answer.

Showery Weather Seen for Broad Areas of Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Showery weather appeared in prospect for broad areas of the nation today, with a possibility of some rain in Brooklyn, scene of the second game of the World Series.

Showers, general in most of the southeast yesterday, continued during the night and spread northward into Pennsylvania. The wet belt was expected to extend into the Atlantic States and New England during the day.

The wet weather yesterday extended from southern Missouri through Tennessee and southward to the Gulf coast, including eastern Texas and the Florida Peninsula. Wind gusts of 69 m.p.h. were reported in a thunderstorm in the Houston, Tex., area. Rainfall measured about 1½ inches. More than one inch of rain fell in Apalachicola, Fla.

Generally fair weather prevailed from the Pacific coast to the Great Lakes region except in the coastal areas in the far northwest.

It was cooler this morning in the northern Plains and southward to western Nebraska, with temperatures 10 to 20 degrees lower than 24 hours earlier. Eastward temperatures were in the 60s as far north as Iowa and in the 50s in most of the Great Lakes region. There was a little cooling in New England, with readings mostly in the 40s.

Jury Decides Not Enough Evidence To Convict Driver

VINITA, Okla. (AP)—A jury decided yesterday there wasn't enough evidence to convict Alfred (Red Wilmer) Wildermuth deliberately rammed another car because he was angry with his wife.

Earl Vincent Case, 30, of Tulsa, Okla., and a five-week-old daughter were killed in the crash on U. S. 66 just outside Vinita last Christmas. Mrs. Case and another daughter were hurt. So were Wildermuth and his wife.

Wildermuth was tried on a murder charge.

The 32-year-old rodeo performer from Vinita and Abilene, Tex., insisted carbon monoxide fumes blacked him out just before the head-on crash.

Prosecution witnesses testified they heard Mrs. Wildermuth say her husband rammed the other car because they had been arguing and he was furious. Mrs. Wildermuth denied this.

The jury deliberated 9½ hours. The prosecution had asked them to send Wildermuth to prison for life.

Jury Convicts Man Of Murder When Shots Were Fired by Police

READING, Pa. (AP)—A jury has convicted an Allentown, Pa., man of murder although a policeman fired the fatal shots.

The Berks County jury yesterday convicted James W. Redline, 32, of murder in the first degree with a recommendation of life imprisonment for the death of Ebor Worske, also of Allentown, his alleged accomplice in an attempted holdup.

Worske was killed in April by a Reading policeman during a running battle with police in which two officers were shot.

Will Install Bishop Marling at Jeff City

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 3 (AP)—The Most Rev. Joseph M. Marling will be installed as bishop of the new Catholic diocese of Jefferson City Tuesday, Nov. 27 at St. Peter's Cathedral here, it was announced today.

At the same time the Most Rev. Joseph E. Ritter, archbishop of St. Louis will conduct a pontifical high mass formally establishing the new 38-county central Missouri diocese.

Bishop Marling has been auxiliary bishop of Kansas City. The next day Nov. 28, Archbishop Ritter will install the Most Rev. Charles H. Helmsing as bishop of the newly created Springfield and Cape Girardeau diocese in ceremonies at St. Agnes Cathedral in Springfield.

Bishop Helmsing has been auxiliary to the St. Louis archbishop.

Unopposed in Election

MARSHALL, Mo. (AP)—Sheriff Paul Piper, Democratic nominee for a second term, is in a unique position in the political annals of Saline County.

He has no opposition. The oldest of the old timers can't recall when a nominee for the post didn't have opposition in the general election.

Police Reports

Police have been requested to try and locate Vernon Willis, Ponca City, Okla., believed to be working in the Sedalia area.

He was described as 5 feet 6 inches tall, weighing 190 pounds, with black curly hair, blue eyes and dark complexion, driving a 1955 Ford Crown Victoria, black and white. His car has a Texas license.

Any information concerning him should be given the Sedalia police, as it is important to locate him.

A prowler was reported at 1826 South Carr at 8:48 p.m. Wednesday. He was gone when officers arrived.

Ronny Bozarth, 540 East Third, five years old, was reported lost shortly before 6 o'clock Wednesday evening from his home. He was later found next door in a store building of the Hagen's Appliance Store, 538 East Third, locked in.

Police got the boy out of the store and returned him to his family.

The front door of the Kenny Miller Real Estate office, Third and Osage, was found open at 3 a.m. Thursday by the police. The door was locked by officer and a note left for the owner.

Heavy Fog Halts St. Louis Air Traffic

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A heavy fog halted air traffic for 6½ hours and slowed early morning automobile traffic in the St. Louis area today.

The dense fog reduced visibility at the Municipal Airport northwest of St. Louis to one-sixteenth of a mile. In some low areas of St. Louis County motorists could see less than 100 feet until the fog began to lift.

The Weather Bureau reported the fog extended from Columbia, Mo., to Springfield, Ill., and as far south as the Arkansas border.

Accidents

Earl Lee, 60, 117 East Main, suffered a fractured back and a skull fracture when he fell down a 25 foot stairway at 117 East Main, about 7:15 Wednesday evening.

He was taken to the Bothwell Hospital by the Ewing ambulance, where he was given emergency treatment by Dr. Edwards.

Police reported they found him sitting up at the bottom of the stairs when they arrived at the hospital.

Extensive damage resulted to a 1954 Dodge club coupe about 12:48 a. m. Thursday when it crashed into the light pole on the southeast corner of Broadway and Grand. The driver, the only occupant, suffered minor injuries.

Jacob John Wissman, 20, 1516 East Broadway, was returning to his home after attending the Drive-In Theatre when the mishap occurred. He told officers that he looked at his speedometer and was going 30 miles an hour and a second later he seemed to black out and that was all he knew of what happened. He said the next thing he knew he was lying on the front seat of the car and he crawled through the door to find he had struck a pole.

The impact was so great it jarred the pole nearly four inches in the ground and broke the pole at about eight feet from the ground.

The right front portion of the car hit the pole and drove the front wheel back, the body was sprung and the front end demolished.

Wissman was taken to Bothwell Hospital in the Ewing ambulance where Dr. T. J. Hopkins treated him for a laceration across the bridge of his nose, laceration of the mouth and lips, and a bruised chest.

The car was towed to the Bacon Service Station.

Police Court

Rufus A. Thomas, 1013 East 11th, charged with driving a car while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, was released by the city and turned over to the county for prosecution in the Magistrate Court of Judge F. T. Armstrong, since this is the third time this year he has been arrested on the same type of charge.

A/2c Robert Lee Chamness, of Whiteman AFB, charged with making a left turn at Second and Ohio, forfeited a $5 cash bond.

Nine overtime parkers who failed to appear in police court and their cash bonds of $1 each were forfeited. There were 35 others who paid the 25 cent fees.

A charge against A/2c Donald C. Dayton, Whiteman AFB, of careless driving in the 200 block East Third, was changed, after a hearing, to illegal backing of a motor vehicle. Dayton pleaded guilty and was fined $10.

Circuit Court

Mary Ella Hall was granted a divorce from William Calvin Hall. Crawford and Harlan represented the plaintiff.

A. A. Michels filed a petition for $50,000 damages against Gold Ilgenfritz. The petition alleges breach of promise. Crawford and Harlan represent the plaintiff.

Senate Investigators Arrange Conference With Wife of Hodge

CHICAGO (AP)—U. S. Senate investigators arranged a conference today with the wife of the imprisoned former Illinois state auditor about hints that others shared in her husband's raid on Illinois funds.

Mrs. Margaret Hodge, wife of Orville E. Hodge, Republican, has hinted in newspaper interviews that others besides those imprisoned were involved in the 1½ million dollar state check cashing scandal.

Robert A. Wallace, staff director of the U. S. Senate Banking and Currency Committee, said Mrs. Hodge will be asked for details concerning her statements.

The committee will begin hearings into the matter Monday in Chicago's federal building.

Among witnesses slated to appear will be Hodge; Edward A. Epping, Hodge's imprisoned office manager; and Edward A. Southmoore Bank & Trust Co. of Chicago, where most of the phony checks were cashed. Hodge and Epping will be transferred from the Menard Prison at Chester, Ill., to Stateville Prison at Joliet, for the hearing. Hintz is serving his sentence at Stateville.

take the country away from General Motors and give it back to Joe Smith.

The Democratic candidate bears down on issues that have local appeal, of course. In Pennsylvania, for example, he discussed the failure of the administration to get through Congress a bill to channel new business to areas where unemployment is serious.

What impact this outpouring of energy will have is an open question. The American voter often seems most inscrutable. But there is a theory Stevenson's speeches lack the zing they had four years ago—that he's not putting his message across.

His major TV speech last night was a disappointment to many on his staff. Stevenson toned it down. One of the professional polls in his entourage was overheard when he said that was too bad. "He had to hit hard this time," said the pro.

But Stevenson's a pro too. His theme last night was that the Democrats have done more and will do more to help citizens meet their problems than the Republicans. In the course of saying this, Stevenson as good as called the President a liar. How much harder could he hit?

Officials Hunt Russian, Baby On Big Liner

NEW YORK (AP)—U.S. immigration men swarmed over the huge liner Queen Mary yesterday in a futile search for a Russian refugee and his American-born baby daughter bound for the Soviet Union.

Among the 1,269 passengers were a score of Russians, one a ranking official. The father and child were said to be possibly the victims of Soviet intimidation.

The searchers were looking for 58-year-old Alexis Chwastov and his daughter, Tanya, 2½. The child was born in Philadelphia.

Chwastov's 92-year-old mother was said to be still in Russia.

Apparently tipped off by Chwastov's estranged wife, immigration officials made a deck by deck, cabin by cabin search. In Chwastov's tourist class cabin, they said, they found only luggage and bottles of baby formula.

One passenger, Fedor Solomat, chief counsel to the Soviet Embassy in Washington, said: "In accordance with our law, the child is a Soviet citizen."

Roland Elliott, immigration service director for the Church World Service, told newsmen he feared Chwastov left under "intimidation."

Rebels Kill 23 French

ALGIERS (AP)—Algerian rebels killed 23 French soldiers—all of them 21-year-old draftees—in a fierce battle that raged for several hours last night south of Oran.

The French announcement of the action made no mention of rebel losses.

It was one of the heaviest losses suffered by French forces in a single clash since the rebellion started almost two years ago.

Student Council, Class Officers Elected for Year

Something new has been added to Hubbard High School—a student council, in which the pupils participate in governing themselves. The following persons were elected to the student council by their fellow classmates:

Student Council officers are as follows: president, George Williams; vice-president, Eugene Sims; secretary, Josephine Smith; assistant secretary, Norma Clark; treasurer, Norma Jean Parks; parliamentarian, Roy Cox; sergeant-at-arms, Raymond Curd; chaplain, Ruth Byrd; and sponsor, H. E. Browder.

The Student Council is busy formulating a constitution for the student body. Also it is planning for freshman initiation. Officers were installed in a chapel program recently.

Mrs. Ardonia Byrd and Mrs. C. H. Gooch represented the Hubbard PTA at the district meeting in Marshall Friday.

The Hubbard School chapter of the National Honor Society recently held its first meeting of the year. The purpose of the meeting was to fill a vacant office and plan for the school term of 1956-57.

During the meeting the president appointed two committee chairmen, Ruth Byrd, chairman of the program committee, and Josephine Smith, chairman of the publicity committee.

The following are members of the program committee: Roy Cox, Delores Foster, Janie McFerrin, George Williams, Ida Byrd and Don Jackson.

The following are members of the publicity committee: Eugene Sims, Ernest McFerrin, Charles Smith, Gloria Herndon, Ida Byrd and Roy Cox.

There are 17 members in the Hubbard chapter of the National Honor Society. They are: president, Dorothy Clark; vice-president, George Williams; secretary, Norma Parks; assistant secretary, Delores Foster; treasurer, Charles Smith; parliamentarian, J. McFerrin; Josephine Smith, R. Cox, Ruth Byrd, Ernest McFerrin, Eugene Sims, Tyrone Parker; Matthew Williams, Raymond Taylor, Lee Calvin Gay, Gloria Herndon and Don Jackson.

Israeli Leaders Claim Border Attack on Train

JERUSALEM (AP)—Israeli officials said the crowded Haifa-Jerusalem passenger train was attacked last night by rifle and machinegun fire from across the Jordan border. The engineer was the only casualty.

The wounded man, hit in the leg by a ricocheting bullet, put on full speed and piloted the train another six miles until it reached Lydda.

The incident occurred in the Israeli coastal plain, near Eyal settlement about 35 miles south of Haifa.

Persons aboard the train gave this account:

Two rifle bullets first hit the train and machinegun bursts followed, "all from the Jordan side of the border." The train conductor raced through the coaches, ordering the passengers to throw themselves on the floor. There was no panic.

Security forces aboard the train returned the fire.

Israel announced yesterday its delegate would attend no more meetings of the Israel-Jordan Armistice Commission. The Foreign Ministry charged the U.N. truce organization with "steady attempts . . . to equalize acts of Jordan aggression with justified Israeli measures of self-defense."

The chief truce supervisor, Canadian Maj. Gen. E.L.M. Burns, appealed to the Israelis to reconsider.

Movie Actor Dies After Brief Illness

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—George Bancroft, one of the roughest and toughest of Hollywood's "heavies," died in a hospital Tuesday after an illness of three weeks. He was 74.

Bancroft was an actor most of his life. Even when he served for many years in the Navy he set up portable stages on deck and served as the impresario of all manner of programs, using Navy talent.

He went to sea as a teen-ager on merchant ships, later joined the Navy and was a gunner aboard the cruiser Baltimore in the Battle of Manila Bay during the Spanish-American War.

In 1900 when the USS Oregon struck a submerged rock off the China coast, Bancroft swam beneath the hull of the vessel to learn the extent of the damage. For this feat of daring and skill he received an appointment to Annapolis, but he found restrictions there too confining so he resigned and headed for Broadway.

For 15 years he played important roles in many successful shows, and in 1922 launched his movie career. He became famous for his rugged characterizations and for 20 years was one of Hollywood's busiest actors.

He played in "The Pony Express," "Underworld," "The Wolf of Wall Street," "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town," "Submarine Patrol," and many others. His last move,

"Whistling in Dixie," was made in 1942.

Bancroft was born in Philadelphia, and was married in 1913 in Buffalo, N.Y., to Edna Brothers, an actress. Three years later he was wed to Octavia Broske, musical comedy star, who survives him.

Miss Brothers sued him in 1934, alleging he had never obtained a divorce and demanding that she be recognized as his legal wife. Two years later the action was withdrawn and Bancroft was reported to have settled the case for $25,000. The same year she obtained a Las Vegas, Nev., divorce.

In addition to his widow Bancroft leaves a daughter, Mrs. Georgette King of Pacific Palisades, Calif., and two grandchildren.

Funeral services were scheduled today, the Rev. Dr. David John Donovan, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, officiating, with interment in Woodlawn Mausoleum.

'Basement Bargain' Maglie Has Acquired Big Price Tag

BROOKLYN (AP)—Sal Maglie cost the Brooklyn Dodgers $1,000 in baseball's bargain basement. Today you couldn't get him for $100,000.

The swarthy, 39-year-old cast-off, waived out of both major leagues and considered "washed up," pitched the Dodgers to the National League pennant with a great stretch performance and then yesterday sent them off to the lead in the World Series by taming New York Yankee power, 6-3.

Here is the bizarre story of Flatbush's great bargain:

Only May 15 of this year, Buzzy Bavasi, vice president of the Dodgers, called Walt Alston, the manager.

Said Bavasi: "If I got a chance to get Maglie cheap would you want him?"

Said Alston: "Sure, I saw him in our exhibition with Cleveland. He looked like he had a lot of stuff."

Maglie had started his baseball career in 1938 with Buffalo, had gone to the Giants in 1943 for $3,200, later jumped to the Mexican League and then returned to the Giants in 1950.

After a brilliant career with the Giants—particularly as the nemesis of the Dodgers, whom he beat 23 times—he was discarded in mid-1955 as an expensive luxury. Waived out of the National League, he was bought by Cleveland just to spite the Yankees.

With Cleveland, he was a costly luxury, too, earning $28,000 to sit on the bench. From July 31, 1955, he didn't win a game for the Indians while losing two.

It was in early May that Hank Greenberg, general manager of O'Malley, president of the Dodgers. "This Maglie is no use to us, but he might help you," Greenberg said.

So waivers were asked again on Maglie and he wound up in a Brooklyn uniform, the uniform he used to hate with a vengeance.

The waiver price is $10,000. But insiders say the Dodgers paid Cleveland only $1,000 and offered to forget a small minor league deal with Cleveland amounting to another $1,000.

Where does the aging Maglie get this new elixir of life?

"My idleness with Cleveland probably helped me," he said. "I gave my ailing back time to heal. I have kept my legs in good shape."

Maglie acknowledges that his fast ball has lost some of its zip but feels his curve is better than ever.

"He's a smart one," said the Yankees' Enos (Country) Slaughter. "His fast ball is gone but he runs you crazy with those sliders and sinkers. And he's always feeding you a bad ball, hoping you'll bite on it."

The Yankees were warned about the bad ball. Twenty-one times in the opening game they let Sal's first one go by without swinging.

Most of them were strikes. He struck out ten Yankees. He struck out Mickey Mantle with two on base and none out in the third. He made Yogi Berra bite at a bad pitch in the fifth and fly out when a walk would have filled the bases with one out. He made Mantle hit into a double play to end the game.

"He'll murder you—take everything away from him and he'll claw you with his bare hands," said a Yankee.

Game time at the Jennie Jaynes Memorial Stadium will be 8:00.

The probable starting lineup will be Charles Arnest and Larry Shepherd at ends, Edward Hall and Bill McDowell at tackles, Perry Fairfax and Tom Boehm at guards, Dick Sklar at center, James Murray quarterback, Charles Newman and Marshall Bryan at halfbacks, and Jim Goodrich at fullback.

Kerby Farrell Will Manage Cleveland Team

NEW YORK (AP)—Kerby Farrell, who led the Indianapolis Indians to an American Assn. pennant and Little World Series victory this season, will succeed Al Lopez as manager of the Cleveland Indians, the Associated Press learned last night.

The AP also learned that Jack Tighe, coach of the Detroit Tigers, will be elevated to the manager's post recently vacated by Bucky Harris.

Both announcements are expected to be made either during the World Series or soon after.

Farrell, a former infielder with the Boston Braves and Chicago White Sox, has managed the Indianapolis club for the past few seasons.

Tighe managed Buffalo in the International League in 1953 before coming up to the Tigers as coach. He has been a member of the Detroit organization since 1936.

"We haven't talked to anyone yet," said Detroit Farm Director John McHale, "but Tighe is very well thought of. He is an astute baseball man. I realize that he is not widely known but neither was Walter Alston nor Mayo Smith before they received their chance in the big leagues."

"Farrell will be named any day now. There's no question about it. He's the next Cleveland manager."

Teenettes Volleyball Team Reorganizes And Wants Games

The Teenettes have been reorganized for this season and are ready to accept and schedule volleyball games. Walter G. McMellen, their coach and manager, announces.

Four years ago McMellen started the girls' volleyball team and this year several girls who started with the team originally are back in the lineup.

It is the first time any Mark Twain girls have tried out. Two are listed among the 21 girls.

The squad will hold volleyball practice at Horace Mann school gym from 9 to 11 a. m. on Saturday and at the Whittier school from 7 to 9 o'clock in the evening.

Bucky Harris Signs

BROOKLYN (AP)—Bucky Harris, 59-year-old veteran of more than three decades in the major leagues, has been signed by the Boston Red Sox as a "special assistant" to Gen. Mgr. Joe Cronin. "Harris will be stationed in Boston and will be a general trouble shooter," Cronin said yesterday in announcing the signing.

Harris resigned last week as manager of the Detroit Tigers.

FUTILE PICKOFF TRY—Carl Furillo of the Brooklyn Dodgers gets back to third base safely as the New York Yankees' Andy Carey covers and umpire Larry Napp watches during a futile pickoff attempt by pitcher Whitey Ford in the second inning of the opening World Series game in New York. Ford threw wild but the ball caromed back swiftly from the third base field boxes and Furillo could not try for the plate. The Dodgers took the opener, 6-3. (NEA Telephoto)

Suspend New Pledge In Olympics

LAUSANNE, Switzerland (AP)—The controversial anti-professional pledge, which had threatened to split Olympic ranks, has been suspended for the Melbourne games.

The International Olympic Committee executive board last night decided after a three-hour session to return to the old Olympic vow which requires only that each athlete declare he is an amateur. The words "and to remain" (an amateur) were suppressed at least as far as the Melbourne games are concerned.

Avery Brundage of Chicago, president of the IOC who had led the fight for the new rule, expressed satisfaction over the committee's action.

"The spirit remains," said Brundage. "What we want is to keep the Olympic games pure and honest. That is all that matters."

The board said its action in returning to the pledge used during the 1952 games at Helsinki was motivated by insufficient notice of the new pledge, which first appeared in the Olympic rules published in July.

The rule, which required athletes to sign a pledge stating they would remain amateurs, brought adverse reaction from Olympic team members of several countries.

Mickey Mantle Obliges President With Hit Into Double Play

BROOKLYN (AP)—Reporters in the Brooklyn dressing room yesterday asked each Dodger what he had said to President Eisenhower, or what the President had said to him, in chats before the World Series opener.

Catcher Roy Campanella said, "He told me 'I don't know where this is going to go,' just before he threw out the ball. He said 'don't make me look bad.'"

"It was a real good toss."

The President, who played ball as a youth, turned to his host, Walter O'Malley, president of the Dodgers, in the ninth inning when Mickey Mantle came to bat and said, "I've seen him hit a home run and I've seen him strike out. Now if he should hit into a double play I've seen him do everything."

A few seconds later Mantle hit into a double play.

Oregon State Used Ineligible Player at MU

COLUMBIA, Mo., (AP)—If there's a forfeit to Missouri of Oregon State's 19-13 football victory over the Big Seven Tigers here Sept. 22 it apparently will have to be originated by the Pacific Coast conference school.

Oregon State announced yesterday its star halfback, Sam Wesley, who scored against Missouri on a 62-yard pass play, had been declared ineligible and dropped from school.

Coach Don Faurot of Missouri said last night the "situation should be handled by Oregon State."

"If he (Wesley) had played on a University of Missouri team when he was ineligible," Faurot said, "I'm certain our people would forfeit the game."

Oregon State learned, according to its officials, that Wesley had been enrolled at both Illinois University and Lincoln University of Jefferson City, Mo., before registering at the Pacific Coast school two years ago.

Bobo Olson Retires

On Eve of 10-Round Bout With Walker

PORTLAND, Ore., (AP)—Carl (Bobo) Olson is hanging up his gloves.

Retirement of the former middleweight boxing champion was announced by his manager, Sid Flaherty, on the eve of a scheduled 10-round main event bout with Sammy Walker here tonight.

"His reflexes are too slow and he hasn't felt like his old self," Flaherty said of Olson, who is 38.

Tommy Moyer, Portland promoter, cancelled his fight card and began making ticket refunds. Flaherty said the decision was made after consultation with Portland physicians.

Olson's career, which started as a 15-year-old preliminary boy in Hawaii, reached his peak Oct. 21, 1953, when he defeated Randy Turpin of England to win the world title.

Olson defended his championship successfully three times and won seven other fights.

Then Sugar Ray Robinson, whose vacated championship Olson won during Ray's retirement, regained the title Dec. 9, 1955, by knocking out Olson in two rounds. Olson tried again but Robinson duplicated the knockout.

BETTER UNDERSTANDING—To cut down knee and ankle injuries, Michigan football players are using shoes equipped with wedge cleats, left, instead of the spike-type cleat, right. The wedges are expected to provide a better foothold. Halfback Terry Barr shows you the two styles.

Jim Beecham Makes No Hit With the Fans

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., (AP)—Jimmy Beecham, the 21-year-old welterweight from Philadelphia, Pa., made his television boxing debut last night but he was no hit with the fans as he outpointed the Trinidad veteran, Hector Constance, in a boring 10-round bout.

"What an awful fight," a ring-side fan commented. "Think how lousy this must look on TV."

TV Viewers
Are Studying Commercials
By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP)—Television being a commercial medium, there always will be television commercials.
Grumblings about this fact have largely died away. We now have complaints about the nature of commercials. Nearly every viewer has become a commercial critic.
The commercial script, its actors and actresses, the camera work involved—all are carefully, and often crossly, scrutinized by the great viewing public.
Now comes a missive from a correspondent who expresses a viewpoint which she claims is widely held by her friends. They are, it seems, tired of "multiple casting" of actors for commercials.
Within a brief period they have spotted the same girl 1) advertising peanut butter, 2) smoking as a college co-ed at a house party, and 3) as a nurse bandaging a little girl's finger.
Within a briefer period they have witnessed a grey-haired lady telling her constipation problems to her family physician, and 3) assuring her husband that by golly she's sure going to serve more iced tea.
On the same evening they saw the same fellow acting as a doctor and selling candy. And, worse, that same night they also saw a fellow who used to advertise one brand of cigarettes gushing over an entirely different brand of cigarettes.
The faith of these viewers obviously has been badly shaken. They make no bones about it, they want to believe in the person making the old advertising pitch.
Our correspondent goes on to cite the cases of Betty Furness and Ed Sullivan, both of whom advertise the products of one manufacturer, as examples of what should be the case in all TV advertising.
Well, this complaint does not exactly go to the root of the television industry and come to grips with some of its enormous problems. But it does, perhaps, indicate the beginning of a new era in which the public has finally made a friend of TV commercials.
No complaints are voiced, you'll note, about the frequency or the content of commercials. The basic complaint is that some viewers want personalized service. They want to believe that there's a good friend, loyal to only one product, there on the screen speaking to them.

Meeting Is at Marshall--

Sedalia PTA District Hears Mrs. Homer Kesterson Speak

Mrs. Homer Kesterson, seventh vice-president of the Missouri Congress of Parents and Teachers and editor of the Missouri Parent-Teacher, was the principal speaker at the Sedalia District Conference held at the Methodist Church in Marshall on Sept. 28.

The theme of the conference was "Parents Teach Also," and the president of the Sedalia District, Mrs. Howard Gwinn, Sedalia, presided at the meeting.

Mrs. Kesterson, a quiet, unassuming woman, gave an inspiring talk to the parents who were present. She used as her topic, in keeping with the general theme, "How PTA's Help Parents Teach Also."

Mrs. Kesterson was presented a corsage of yellow rosebuds tied with blue ribbon in keeping with the PTA colors of blue and gold by the Marshall City Council. Mrs. Earl Macy, president and Saline County Council, Mrs. Murrell Elson, president, who were co-hostesses for the conference.

The registration was at 9:30 a.m. and the meeting started at 10 a.m. The devotional was given by Dr. C. D. Galatas, pastor of the Methodist Church.

Greetings were extended by Mrs. Elson, Frank McGraw, Saline County superintendent, Mrs. Macy, A. H. Buckner, superintendent of the Marshall public schools, with a response from Mrs. Gwinn, who pledged the loyalty of the PTA workers to the educators.

Reports of the various councils were given as follows: Benton, Mrs. Clarence Powell, five units, 494 members; Cooper, Mrs. Edwald Helmerich, 16 units; Monticau, Mrs. John Singer, eight units, 860 members; Morgan, Mrs. Herbert Brunjes, eight units; Pettis, Mrs. Rex Paul, 14 units, 800 members; Saline, Mrs. Elson, 15 units, 1,400 members; Marshall City, Mrs. Macy, five units, 508 members; Sedalia City, Mrs. Sam Knapp, eight units, 3,445 members.

Various projects included a county library, milk program, legislation and health clinic.

After announcements the conference was divided for a "buzz" session into the following groups: hospitality, budget and finance, program, membership, magazine, parent and family life, publicity, room representatives and parent participation.

The luncheon was served by the ladies of the church. The tables were decorated with autumn flowers and favors were miniature national Parent-Teacher magazine covers.

The invocation was given by Dr. Galatas and group singing was led by Mrs. Herbert Stovffer and Mrs. T. E. Owen.

At the luncheon, a skit to help promote the sale of the National Parent-Teacher magazine was given by Mrs. Donald Trueman and Mrs. R. J. Ramsey.

The afternoon session was opened with songs by students from the Marshall High School music department, after which reports were given.

There were 189 registered delegates and banners were awarded to the school from each county and to the council which had the largest percentage of their members present. In the counties were: Benton R-10, Mrs. Pauline Shaw, president; Cooper, Locust Grove, Mrs. Elmer Herman, president; Monticau, Fortuna, Mrs. Wilma Briscoe, president; Morgan, Stover, Mrs. Herbert Brunjes, president; Pettis, Mosby, Mrs. George Franklin, president; Saline, Malta Bend, Mrs. Frank Connor, president; Marshall City, Eastwood, Fred T. Plains, president, and Sedalia City, Broadway, Mrs. Glenn Lewis, president, and Council, the Marshall City Council, Mrs. Earl Macy, president.

The closing meditation was a fitting climax to the meeting. The theme was prayer. There was one large candle and 12 various colored smaller ones, each symbolic, as the soloist, Mrs. Kile Guthrie, accompanied by Mrs. W. A. Snoddy, sang "The Lord's Prayer," the narrator, Mrs. Robert Lemmon lighted these colored candles from the large white one which represented the candle of life.

The meeting closed with the PTA prayer.

Attending from Sedalia were: Broadway, Mrs. Glenn Lewis, Mrs. R. L. Swearingen, Mrs. Harry Williams, Mrs. Ralph Rohrbach, Mrs. William Bates, Mrs. R. L. Owens and Mrs. Dan Duly; Jefferson, Mrs. A. L. Jones, Mrs. James Hall, Mrs. Letha Lees and Mrs. Lloyd Greer; Mark Twain, Mrs. R. D. Uhr; Horace Mann,

Had Business Luncheon With Negro--

Storm Bursts About the Head Of a County Health Officer

MADISON, Fla. (AP)—You never would think to look at blonde, youthful Dr. Deborah Coggins that she is the center of a racial controversy which has rocked this area of rural North Florida.

The 32-year-old mother of three seems much more like a trim, attractive, suburban housewife than a county health officer who had a storm break about her head after she had a business luncheon with a Negro nurse.

Editor T. C. Merchant Jr. of the weekly Enterprise-Recorder, a staunch supporter of Dr. Coggins, has said she has been subjected to the most "vicious assortment of lies, misrepresentation and slander that I have had occasion to witness in this community."

The young physician, however, preserved almost to the end an air of serene detachment.

It was unexpected when she blazed up at the Madison County Commission yesterday, calling its members "fools" and "cowards" for refusing to tell her whether she was being fired because of the luncheon with the Negro.

A short while later, she was her composed self again — able to discuss with rueful amusement the multiple firings she has experienced since the Aug. 22 lunch.

Since she served the three north Florida counties of Madison, Jefferson and Taylor as health officer, separate action was required from each.

The first move came from Madison County when it asked the State Board of Health to relieve her of her job. She counts that as her first "firing."

Then commissioners of all three counties got together and decided to dismiss her if she didn't resign. Separate actions followed in each county. She journeyed to each county seat to hear herself dismissed.

In Jefferson and Taylor counties she sat quietly, addressing the commissioners respectfully and not forgetting the "sir" which springs automatically to the lips of a Southerner speaking to men in authority.

But Dr. Coggins, a native of Tampa, used no respectful title when addressing the members of the commission of her home county of Madison.

When they refused to explain the reason for asking the Board of Health to relieve her, she demanded in a rush of words: "Why are you such cowards? You must be afraid you're not doing the right thing. You're all fools, fools!"

She has no intention of leaving Madison, though. It's the birthplace of her husband and "it's our home."

Home and her children are important to her. She could have taken another job with the Board of Health. But it would have entailed being away from Madison a good part of the time and she didn't even consider it.

Nor has she considered other job offers from Pennsylvania and California — though she is warm in her appreciation for the support implied.

There is nothing of the crusader or rabble-rouser about Dr. Coggins. She says she had no idea of breaching Southern social custom when she arranged the luncheon conference with the Negro.

But she insists with calmness and conviction that "health knows no color boundaries."

Cemetery Club Has Meeting In Blackwater

By Mrs. M. R. Gillespie

BLACKWATER—The Salt Fork Cemetery Club held its September meeting at the Salt Fork Church. The devotional service was conducted by Mrs. Bud Griffith. Plans were made for the annual bazaar and dinner to be held in October at the school building in Blackwater.

Mrs. Mary Harris, who spent the summer at Rising Sun Chalet, Glacier Park, Mont., came last week for a visit in the homes of her mother and brother, Mrs. Anna Marshall and Willard Marshall, and Mrs. Marshall.

Mrs. Bud Griffith went to Kansas City Sunday to spend a week in the home of her brother, Willie Gash, and Mrs. Gash. Mrs. Gash returned home last week from a hospital where she had been a patient about two months.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Bagby, Monrovia, Calif., who spent three weeks in the homes of their respective parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bagby and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Steel, left Monday for their home. They were accompanied as far as Burden, Kan., by her sister, Mrs. Elmer Steel, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Steel.

Mrs. Mattie Powell, Temple, Okla., came Thursday of last week for a visit with her cousin, Mrs. R. S. Doty. A family dinner was served at the Doty home Sunday. Attending were Mrs. Powell, Mr. and Mrs. Riley Doty and family, Nelson; Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Doty and family, Bunce; Mr. and Mrs. Charley Nowlin and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Nowlin and daughter and son, Mr. and Mrs. William Nowlin, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank McClain. Afternoon guests were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Summers, Slater, who were accompanied home by Mrs. Powell.

W. A. Bagby, who spent several weeks at the Haas Rest Home, Boonville, returned home Saturday. He was 85 years old Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Gillespie had as guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hurt, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Joel Hurt and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Hurt and daughter, Pilot Grove; Mr. and Mrs. Bud Alexander and three daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Will Dial, Houstonia; Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Sprigg and son, Boonville; Mrs. Nora Harvey, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Harvey and family, Napton; Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Sprigg and two daughters, Blackwater. A contributed dinner was served at noon.

Mrs. Anna Marshall entered St. Joseph Hospital, Boonville, Saturday for observation and treatment.

Mrs. Martha O'Neal and Mrs. Eva Heim had as dinner guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Heim and grandson, Little Rock, Ark.; Folk Vandiver, Kansas City; Mr. and Mrs. Robert O'Neal, Mr. and Mrs. Riley O'Neal and Miss Nancy Wassell.

Mr. and Mrs. John Whitlow Jr., daughter and guest, Mrs. Ervin Cramer, and her little son, Huron, S.D., went to Wadsworth, Kan., Saturday and visited with their son and brother, Warner Whitlow, at the Veteran's Hospital.

Joe Ruddick Attends Theatre Conference; Represents State

Joe Ruddick, manager of the Fox Theatre, left Saturday for Phoenix, Ariz., to attend the Conference of National Theaters, Inc., for supervisory personnel. He was invited to attend as a managerial representative for the State of Missouri. Fox Theatres operate 30 theatres in this state. The conference will be held Oct. 1-3.

Gov. McFarland of Arizona welcomed the delegates today. Dan Dailey and Rex Allen are two movie stars scheduled to attend. Producer director George Stevens, a former Kansas Citian, and Elmer C. Rhoden, president of the National Theatres joined supervision personnel in Kansas City Saturday for the flight to Arizona. Ruddick will return to Sedalia Thursday.

CLOAK-AND-DAGGER WITH OVERDRIVE—"Secret Agent V-8" is hidden in the crate pictured being loaded on a Russian gondola car in Helsinki, Finland, for transshipment to Moscow. The "agent" is a 1957 model Ford. Idea for an American-Russian unveiling at about the same time was a sort of automotive cloak-and-dagger plot hatched by the State Department and Ford officials as a means of dramatizing the American economic story in terms of the goods available to the average worker in this country. The four-door sedan is one of eight new Fords being added to the American embassy's motor pool of mostly pre-1950 American-made autos.

Sedalian Gets Check for Story On Lumber Sale

Albert F. Pummill, 701 South Lafayette, yard foreman at the S. P. Johns Lumber Co., has received a check for $100 from W. E. Difford, managing director of the Douglas Fir Plywood Association. He was one of three winners in a contest among all lumber yard employees and managers in the United States.

Pummill, who has been with the Johns Lumber Co. for 27 years, won his prize for reporting a sizable sale of Douglas fir plywood by the Johns Lumber Co., showing interesting and outstanding results.

The story described a sale of exterior type fir plywood to Howard E. Robinson, Sedalia Drug Co., for use as siding on his home at Seventh and Carr. Robinson desired a wider lap siding than is available in existing wood siding patterns. Specifications for the type siding Robinson wanted were obtained by the lumber company from the Plywood Association.

Attesting to the wisdom of Robinson's selection of this siding is his recent award as Grand Sweepstakes winner of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce Yard of the

Ladder Is Handy Item, Helps Stop Accidents

A step-ladder or extension ladder is a very handy thing to have around any home. In addition to the convenience of a ladder at hand for minor repair jobs around the house, a ladder will help prevent accidents. A chair or stack of books used as a ladder can cause painful injuries.

Although many homes have step-ladders or extension ladders of some type, not all of the ladders are as safe as they should be. Many people are killed and injured each year in falls from ladders with broken rungs, or ladders which simply collapse from the weight.

A ladder is useful only if it is usable, and a dangerous ladder is not safely usable. If your ladder is rickety or has rungs missing, replace it or at least have it firmly braced and the broken rungs replaced. Bolts and screws on the hardware of extension ladders should be checked for tightness and to make sure they are not broken. Occasionally, the wood around the bolts or screws will split from pressure, and should be repaired.

Family Dinner Honors Out-of-State Visitors

A family dinner was held Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Helphrey, Windsor, honoring Mrs. Helphrey's sister, Mrs. George Hiney, Tucson, Ariz., and Mrs. Ethel Norton, Texhoma, Okla. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cleveland, Ernest, Duane and Arlene, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Helphrey, Charlie and Jerry, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Maxwell and Chris, Mrs. Laverne Craig and Leland, George Nevils, Mrs. Jimmy Dale Wilson and Delores Ann, Wichita, Kan.

Mrs. Hiney and Mrs. Norton left Monday for Oklahoma.

More than half of the 26,000 retail lumber dealers in the United States are located in towns of under 5,000 population.

New Recipe for Fixing Shrimp Specialty

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
Ever hear of Shrimp Norfolk?
It's a dish that probably originated along the Virginia seacoast and is now popular in Richmond. A friend told us about it but no Southern cook book in our collection yielded the recipe. Then we heard that the dish was served at an old and respected businessman's club (the Commonwealth) in Richmond and the club's chef kindly obliged with the directions for making this seafood specialty.

Most Virginians, we are told,
like the shrimp dish with plenty of "Norfolk" — in other words, plenty of its tart sauce. Trying it in our own kitchen, we found Shrimp Norfolk delightful to serve with rice. And although Richmond directions call for using either cider or tarragon vinegar, we prefer the former. Here's our version of the dish:

Shrimp Norfolk, Richmond Style Ingredients: 1 package (8 ous-ces) shelled and deveined individually frozen shrimp, 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 3 tablespoons cider vinegar or tarragon vinegar, 2 teaspoons lemon juice, 2 to 4 lemon slices 2 to 4 lemon-peel bows, parsley, paprika.

Method: Turn frozen shrimp into 9- or 10-inch skillet. Set over high heat. When glaze starts to melt, turn shrimp gently until all glaze has melted. Remove skillet from heat; with a cover to hold back shrimp, pour off glaze; reserve glaze. Add butter, salt, vinegar and lemon juice to shrimp in skillet; return to moderately low heat. Cook, stirring often, just until shrimp are opaque throughout. This will probably take only a few minutes. If desired, add 1 or 2 tablespoons of the reserved shrimp liquid. Serve shrimp and sauce as is; or remove shrimp and reduce small amount of sauce even more by cooking rapidly for a minute or

so. Garnish each serving with lemon slices, lemon-peel bows and parsley sprigs; sprinkle with paprika. Extra salt and pepper—preferably fresh-ground — are passed to be added to taste. French-fried potatoes and a salad are often served with the shrimp. Makes 2 main-course servings or 4 first-course servings.

Note: If an iron skillet is used for cooking the shrimp, there will be more melted glaze than if a lighter skillet is used.

SHRIMP NOTES
We find that individually frozen shrimp that come all shelled and deveined in 8-ounce packages a real boon. With a couple of packages in the freezing compartment of your refrigerator, or in your freezer, you can prepare a delicious company main-course in no time at all. As directed in the Shrimp Norfolk recipe, the shrimp can be skillet-cooked, in frozen form, in a matter of minutes.

Longer cooking, as a matter of fact, will toughen them.

We like to add two packages of the shrimp to a generous amount of butter or olive oil in our electric skillet right at the dining table.
Then we add whatever seasonings we have on hand that we think our guests will enjoy. Crushed garlic and minced fresh dill or minced chives and parsley make wonderful seasoning combinations for the shrimp.

After 40 Help Keep Normal Vitality Up Longer

With The New Miracle Loaf

STAFF

SPECIAL DIET BREAD

Containing High, Potent Amounts Of The Above Six Anti-Degenerative Elements For Maintenance And Repair Of Cells, Tissues, Organs, Bones

Gerontology, the science of aging, attributes much needless degeneration of physical and mental vitality after 40 to a deficiency of these six dietary elements:

(1) protein; (2) iron; (3) calcium; (4) Vitamin B<sub>1</sub>; (5) Vitamin B<sub>2</sub>; (6) niacin.

Failure of the body to secure sufficient amounts of one or all of these six "anti-degenerative" elements can result in serious deterioration in the structure and health of bones, organs, tissues and cells.

Normally, all the elements for good nutrition are supplied in a well-balanced diet. However, too many people, particularly after 40, fail to eat meals of good dietary proportions.

Thus risk losing normal mental and physical vitality.

A Boon To People Over 40

Recognition of this common danger to people over 40 has now resulted in the scientific development of a new loaf to take the place of ordinary bread.

The name of this new miracle loaf is Staff. It is different from any loaf ever before known principally in that Staff contains high, potent amounts of these six "anti-degenerative" elements which must be present in the dietary to avoid vitality losses.

Thus, eating Staff is like taking a prescription . . . "an ounce of prevention" that can help you keep normal vitality up longer.
(Please note: Staff is not a "cure." Only a doctor can help the person suffering the effects of deficiency of any one or all of the six anti-degenerative elements.)

Better Than Taking Medicine

To doctors who specialize in treatment of older people, good nutrition is of utmost concern.

First, because good food is fundamental to good health.

Second, because the cost of medicines is a hardship to many older people.

Most important, well-nourished older bodies are better able to withstand shock and disease.

Thus, eating Staff as "an ounce of prevention" to avoid falling into a "deficiency hole" is better than paying for medicines to get out of a "deficiency hole."

Keep Normal Vitality Up Longer

To help keep normal vitality up longer, eat a well-balanced diet of protein foods such as milk, meat, fish, eggs, cheese; energy foods
such as bread, beans and potatoes; protective foods such as oranges, tomatoes and green-leafed and yellow vegetables.

And—eat Staff Bread every day.
Because Staff contains high, potent amounts of the six anti-degenerative food elements which gerontology recognizes many people fail to eat in sufficient amounts.

6 ounces of Staff daily should help protect you against deficiency in these vitality-saving elements.

Costs More — Worth More

Staff is white with a somewhat firm texture. And a flavor richer than ordinary white bread. And a wonderful toasting quality.

Staff costs more than ordinary white bread. However, the nutritional improvements make it vastly superior.

And it's smarter to eat Staff

rather than ordinary white bread and buying medicine to get the same six anti-degenerative food elements contained in Staff.

Thus . . . as "an ounce of prevention" . . . you are urged to eat
Staff every day.

Start eating Staff today . . . eat
6 ounces (about 7 slices) each day to help keep your precious vitality up.

Get Staff fresh from your grocer today. You'll be glad you did.

Iowa Contest: Ike Popularity Versus Farm Policy Dislike

DES MOINES (AP)—The presidential campaign in Iowa — heart of the politically important corn belt — is shaping up largely as a contest between the personal popularity of President Eisenhower and a dislike for his farm policies.

A lot of farmers say they "like" the President but are dissatisfied with his farm program. This apparent paradox complicates the outlook for this traditionally Republican state.

Iowa is one of the few farm states in which farm income is down this year. Supporters of Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, concede that Eisenhower is popular throughout the state but question the extent to which this will be reflected at the ballot box.

Republican leaders agree there is strong dissatisfaction among farmers but say there is not enough to give the state to Stevenson.

How will this issue of Eisenhower popularity versus dislike of his farm programs be resolved on election day?

Seeking an answer to this question, this reporter found that a majority of more than 100 persons interviewed — farmers, business and professional men, newspapermen and political leaders — said they believed Eisenhower would win if the election were held now.

But some insisted that changed conditions — such as a sizable decline in hog and cattle prices before election time — might turn the state to Stevenson.

Eisenhower won Iowa by a majority of 357,000 out of 1,259,000 votes in 1952. GOP State Chairman Don Pierson, while conceding the President will lose votes this year, predicted a victory margin of at least 100,000 votes.

But Jake More, the Democratic state chairman, said he sees great similarity between this campaign and the one in 1948 when Iowa went for Harry S. Truman in his surprise victory over Thomas E. Dewey. Then, as now, there was dissatisfaction over Republican farm policies.

Trooper Learns Two Who Failed Driver's Test Still Use Cars

The headaches of a State Trooper handling driver's tests are many and two given a trooper recently are complaints of two men driving motor vehicles without a license.

Both men are Negroes and the trooper, William Meisburger, requested Sedalia police to be on the lookout for the two. One was reported by the trooper to have taken the driver's test several times and "flunked" while the second has "flunked" 11 times on his tests.

If apprehended by the authorities, both will be filed upon in the Magistrate Court of Judge Frank

French Pie Dish Gains Popularity in US

MAIN-DISH PIE FROM FRANCE... hearty crust, delicate filling.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Quiche Lorraine, popular in France, has been receiving applause in this country. This French dish, with its hearty crust and delicate filling, makes a wonderful main course for a family lunch or a first course for a company dinner.

You'll find fillings for Quiche Lorraine vary although its custard base usually remains the same. One of our recipes includes onion and grated Swiss cheese; the other features crabmeat plus seasonings. Other recipes may call for bacon, green onions, Parmesan cheese.

EVERYDAY QUICHE PASTRY

Ingredients: 2½ cups sifted flour, 1 teaspoon salt, ¾ cup golden shortening, 6 tablespoons cold water.

Method: Stir flour and salt together in a medium-sized mixing bowl. Cut in shortening until mixture looks like coarse cornmeal. Sprinkle water over mixture, 1 tablespoon at a time, and mix lightly with a fork until all flour is moistened. Gather dough into a ball with your hands and divide in half. Roll out each half in a circle ¼-inch thick and about 1½ inches larger than the top of an ordinary 9 or 9½-inch pie plate.

Ingredients: Everyday Quiche Pastry, 1 small onion (minced), 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 4 eggs, 1 cup milk, 1 cup heavy cream, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, ½ cup (½ pound) grated Swiss cheese.

Method: Line an ordinary 9 or 9½-inch pie plate with the Everyday Quiche Pastry you have rolled out. Turn pastry edge under to have standing rim; flute rim lightly without flattening so it just rests on rim of pie plate. Prick pastry all over with tines of fork and refrigerate. Beat eggs enough to combine yolks and whites; beat in milk, cream, salt and pepper enough to combine. Reserve 2 or 3 teaspoonfuls of this mixture; stir grated cheese into the remaining mixture. Cook onion very slowly in butter in small skillet, stirring often, until it is wilted and yellowed; do not brown onion. Bake pastry shell in very hot (450 degrees) oven 8 to 10 minutes; remove from oven. Spread onion (with any butter in skillet) over bottom of partially-baked pastry. Pour custard-cheese mixture over onion. Brush rim of pastry with the few teaspoons of reserved custard mixture. Return to moderate (350 degrees) oven for 25 to 30 minutes or until silver knife inserted near center comes out clean and custard looks set. Do not overbake. Allow to stand 10 minutes at room temperature, then cut and serve at once.

Franklin The Paper Carrier

Few there are who have not heard the expression: 'Go peddle your papers.' And fewer still who have not heard about Benjamin Franklin.

Among other and many attributes, Franklin was a printer in the early days of our country. In the newspaper parlance of his day that meant he was also a publisher of news.

There may have been times when Ben was pretty fagged out with his innumerable activities, but never too much so that he could not "peddle his own papers."

Legend has it that this great American did just that — peddle his own papers — on many occasions and thereby became the first newspaper carrier. At least Joe Forsee, circulation manager of the Sedalia Democrat says it's so; and he was justly surprised to learn that several of his Optimist Club fellow members knew it, too, when he asked them the question.

Franklin, the patron saint of printing, was an advocate of freedom of speech and press but was among the first to emphasize that the defenders of it would have their paths strewn with potential woe. In his "Apology For Printers" he points out that the printer runs a hazard of offending people since he necessarily publishes matters of opinion and there is no subject under Heaven on which men's opinions do not differ. The merchant, or the tradesman, can deal with people of every shade of belief and make a profit from each. But if a newspaper publishes controversial or unpopular facts or opinions the publisher may be held by most angry readers as equally guilty with the writer. But, as Franklin opines, printers are educated to the belief that "when truth and error have fair play, the former is always an overmatch for the latter."

Franklin remarks that if all printers were determined not to print anything until perfectly sure it would offend nobody there would be very little printed. This great man knew something about the newspaper business. He conducted the Pennsylvania Gazette for 34 years and his almanac circulated from Maine to the Carolinas. He corresponded with Webster about his newly published dictionary and with Baskerville in England about his new face of type.

Benjamin Franklin if living today would probably agree during this week's observance of National Newspaper week that just tribute should be paid the American press for its accomplishments for the public good; its watchfulness against dishonesty and crookedness; its interest in civic development, education, science, religion, industry and agriculture; its dissemination of good will in immeasurable quantities and last, but not least, to provide wholesome and enjoyable entertainment.

May Name St. Louis Negro to U.S. Court

By DREW PEARSON

Though the President decided against Judge William Hastie of the U. S. Court of Appeals for the U. S. Supreme Court, his advisers have in mind appointment of another Negro to the federal bench.

He is Sevel Richardson of St. Louis, now chairman of the Federal Parole Board. Richardson is due for appointment in the next few weeks as a U. S. district judge of eastern Missouri.

Though there is one Negro, Judge Hastie, on the Court of Appeals, no Negroes have been appointed to a federal district court. Mr. Richardson, born in Nashville, has been a practicing attorney in southern Illinois and St. Louis for some time, was appointed by Roosevelt as attorney in the office of price administration, and has been an assistant to the chairman of the Republican national committee.

Justice Department insiders indicate that Attorney General Brownell may have a dual motive in appointing Richardson to the federal bench in St. Louis: (1) Recognition of a prominent Negro who would help with the Negro vote; (2) a slap at senior Judge George Moore.

Judge Moore, who has served for two decades on the Federal bench, has resented some of the Justice Department's tactics and hasn't hesitated to ride Brownell hard. Judge Moore also has his own ideas about Negro Judges on the Federal Bench. Justice department officials don't believe he would relish a Negro Judge on his court.

Note—Two other Negro Judges serve on Federal Courts: Judge Irving C. Mollison, on the U. S. Customs Court; and Judge Herman E. Moore, in the Virgin Islands.

White House Mailing.

The White House isn't missing a trick when it comes to campaign strategy. Even direct-mail techniques are being used on White House Stationery. Here is the latest.

In order to induce local organizations to campaign for the GOP, a special White House letter has been printed with the President's name at the bottom in a facsimile that looks as if he had signed it himself.

Printed on White House rag paper of excellent quality, the form letter reads:

"During the campaign of 1956 the record of the Republican party must be taken to every city in America. In this work I appreciate the help of."

Then follows one and a half inches of blank space, so local GOP leaders can fill in the names of local organizations. The form letter then continues:

"Only when all voters are fully informed of the facts and issues can we look forward with confidence to victory in November."

Signed, "Dwight Eisenhower."

The White House has ordered several thousands of these printed for use around the country.

Guest Editorial—

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR: Hobby-Nobbling. We all can readily agree that a man may be superior to his job or to his station in life. But most of us instinctively feel that he will not prove to be superior to his hobby.

Reports on the passing of one of Britain's great landowners, the Marquess of Bute, say that his hobby was an interest in birds. On reading that fact one ceases to think of the late Lord Bute in any such act as measuring his acres or muttering over his tax sheets; one envisions him afield with a pair of binoculars and maybe a notebook.

Whenever the account of a man's life includes mention of his hobby one feels that this, and not how much money he had, or how great honors, nor even what achievements, discloses the inner man, his needs and his satisfactions. Clothes, or a bank account, or an office, may "make" the man—a hobby reveals him.

A few men reach such high levels of achievement that no hobby can add to or subtract from our esteem for them. Churchill the painter must still sit in the shadow of Churchill the leader. Jefferson the architect cannot eclipse Jefferson the statesman. But most of us rise or fall somewhat with our hobbies. And, fortunately, rarely too far above or below that average of human decency and intelligence that makes men kind.

The Women's Vote

GOP leaders are banking heavily on the women's vote to re-elect the Eisenhower-Nixon ticket.

For the first time in history more women than men are expected to go to polls. Over 53,000,000 women are now eligible to vote compared with only 50,600,000 men, and private polls show that the women favor Ike. They like his smile and they credit him with ending the Korean war.

Are Rights Invaded?

A lot of people are showing heightened concern over what happens to the rights of the citizen when police set up road blockades and make large scale checks of motorists and their cars.

This practice is now in use in such states as New York, New Jersey, Tennessee, Illinois and California.

These blockades may have a variety of purposes.

In Westchester County, N. Y., the authorities say they look for drunken drivers. Obviously such a check may reveal many who are driving without licenses. And occasionally the catch-all check may accidentally produce a criminal fugitive or turn up a traveling arsenal.

The element of surprise can be an important factor in the mass road check, so often it is set up at widely varying locations and times. If the route is a heavily traveled one, thousands of motorists may be subject to delays while the check goes on.

A distinction has to be made here, of course, between this sort of thing and the long established practice of setting up special roadblocks to trap fleeing criminals, or requiring car inspections to prevent the movement across state borders of diseased or insect-ridden agricultural produce.

The question which arises is whether the police in imposing catch-all blockades may not be interfering with the motorist's right to travel unchallenged on the open road, just as he walks the sidewalk without interference.

A good many responsible law enforcement agencies, the representatives of the automobile clubs, and some others appear to feel that the growing use of the mass check is unwarranted and constitutes infringement of the citizen's rights.

Northwestern University's Traffic Institute declares:

"Blockades cannot be opened merely as an inquisitorial device to discover chance law violators. It must be borne in mind particularly that our courts generally will not condone roadblocks established primarily for indiscriminate searching of individuals and the vehicles in which they are riding at the time."

It should be remembered that the law does not permit the police to search your house without a warrant. There is much evidence that citizens are, in fact similarly protected when riding in their cars. Many state courts will not accept evidence gained by unlawful search.

Police in some areas may be intrigued with the fishnet technique of apprehending large numbers of minor law violators. But the convenience of this method to them should not obscure the inconvenience and unfairness it spells to thousands of motorists who are not guilty of even the smallest violation.

If the Traffic Institute, the automobile clubs and many law enforcement agencies are right, the haphazard mass roadblock is not only of doubtful legality but is an unwise penalty upon the man who ventures forth in his car.

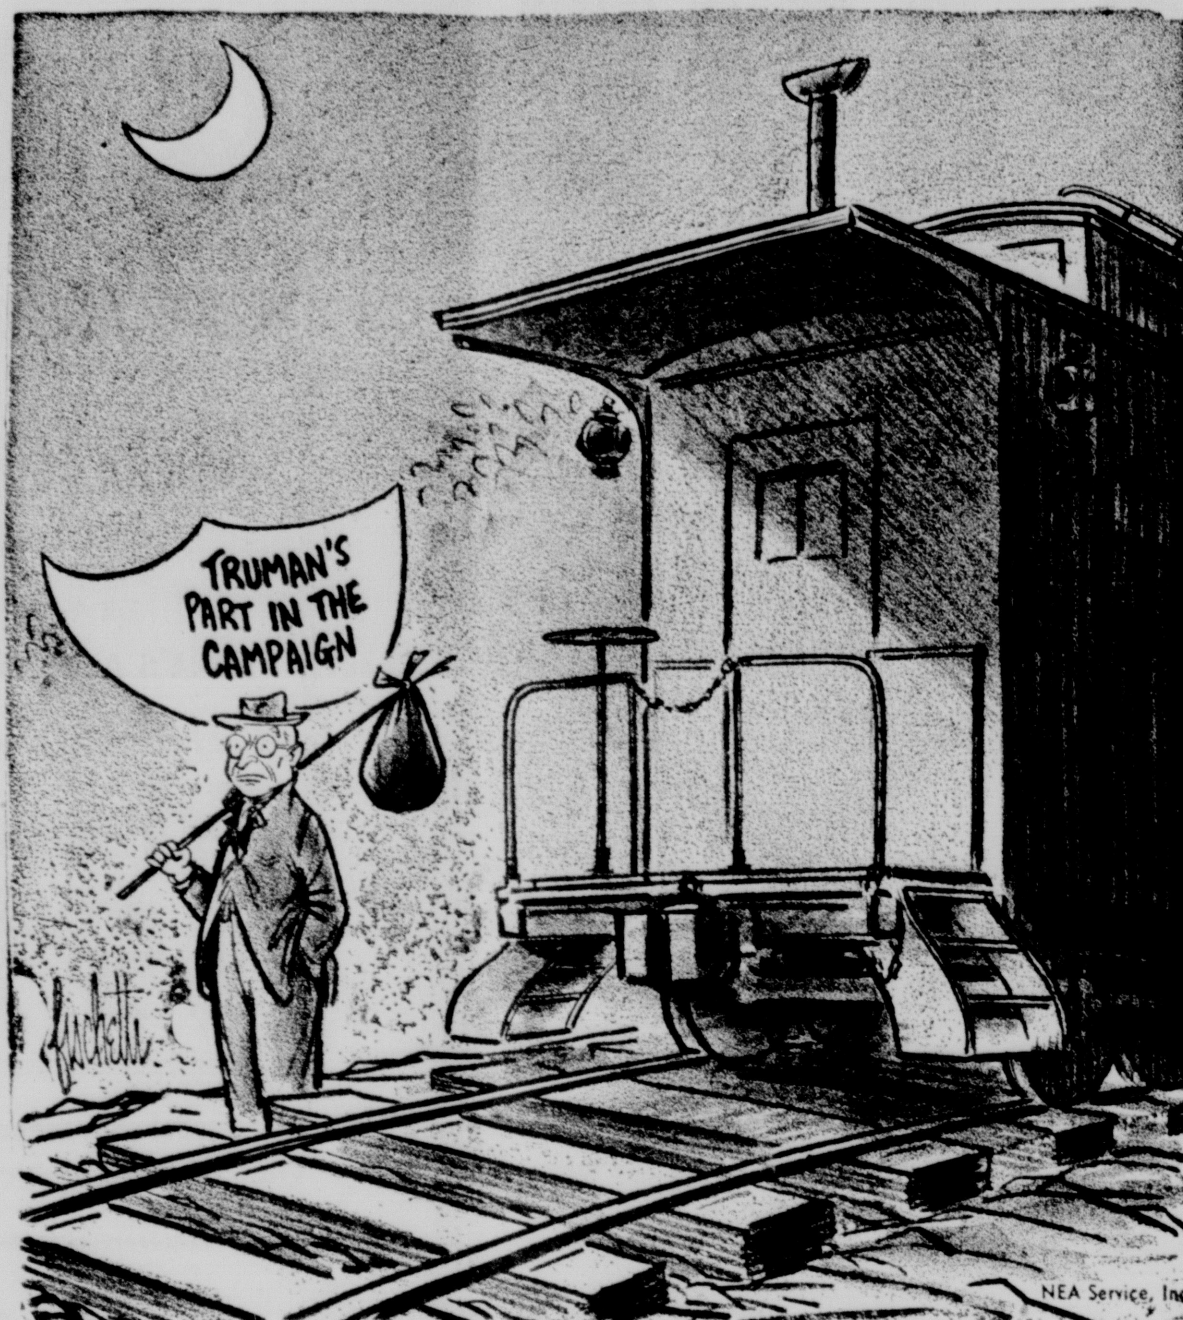

Public outcry has stopped the practice in some places. Perhaps there should be more of it.

The World Today—

Dilemma of Colonialism Confronts US

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — This week Secretary of State Dulles walked head first into an American dilemma — one of the biggest — and when he emerged on the other side it still wasn't clear what this country would or could do about it.

The dilemma is colonialism. This country has not provided open leadership in trying to end colonialism, either under the Democrats or Republicans. Yet the future of the world may revolve around this problem.

Since the war the big colonial powers of Western Europe — including Britain and France — have yielded independence to more than 500 million people. But hundreds of millions aren't free.

Russia is encouraging them, stirring them up. When they get their independence — as they will, sooner or later — they may move into the Russian camp if they have no reason to thank this country or its allies.

This is the dilemma: Britain and France are military allies of this country in the struggle against Russia. If the United States pressures them openly and persistently to yield their colonies, the alliance may be wrecked.

But if the United States doesn't take some kind of anticolonial leadership the dependent peoples — or those who have recently won their freedom — will link the United States with Britain and France.

It could happen that in time much of the world will be lined up with Russia against the West. A good example of what can happen was in the French fiasco in Indochina where half the country was finally lost to the Communists.

Two years ago Dulles said: "The United States is pushing for self-government. We do more than is publicly known. For in these matters open pressures are rarely conducive to the best results."

But behind-the-scenes pressures can hardly be expected to rally newly freed peoples around the United States. Open pressures might cost America its European allies.

At his news conference Tuesday Dulles was asked about a reported split between this country and Britain and France over the seizure of the Suez Canal by Egyptian President Nasser, an open foe of colonialism. Until 1936 Egypt had not been free for 2,500 years.

Dulles, with an eye cocked at Nasser and the Middle East Arabs said "colonialism" is a subject where the U.S. approach is not always "identical" with that of Britain and France.

He said the U.S. role in the process — from colonialism to independence — "is to try to see that" it "moves forward in an evolutionary way."

What he said next could hardly sound very firm to colonial peoples. He said "I suspect" America's role will be to "try to aid that process without identifying itself 100 per cent with the so-called colonial powers" or with the countries seeking independence as "rapidly as possible."

How is the United States going to "aid the process?" Dulles didn't say. There does not appear to be a clearly stated American policy to which the dependent peoples can look.

The Mature Parent—

Child Needs Time to Unwind Before Sleep, Just As You

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Once as a baby Ken was quite ill. After 48 hours of nursing him, his mother was so tired that his father sent her to bed.

But though she lay down, she could not fall asleep. All the excited feelings aroused in her by her sick baby still connected her to him so that she couldn't separate herself from him—and withdraw into the privacy of sleep.

She has also remained wakeful after arguments, gossiping about family matters, on the eyes of trips—all occasions when intense interest in other people and events made it hard to retreat from them into sleep.

Yet tonight at Ken's bedtime, though she'd just put an abrupt end to his Bus Conductor game, she demanded that he accept the immediate idea of sleep.

He fought it. His feelings were still too closely attached to his imaginary bus passengers to stand the sudden removal from them. He refused to leave them. His mother lost her temper—and she and Ken played out an angry scene.

Experienced parents never try to transfer a child too rapidly from intense activity to the quiet kind. Around his bedtime, they either see that he involves himself in the quiet kind; or if he's got mixed up in the intense kind, give him time to unwind.

Before presenting him with the idea of sleep, they reduce the excitement of his Bus Conductor emotions by sharing them with him. They might say, "Can you go a little slower, conductor? What is your next stop? I want to talk to you..."

To make this patient approach work, we need no training in child psychology. All we need is to remember our own experience with overstimulation at bedtime.

Ken will not grow quiet because we've read some child guidance book on how to treat "overstimulation in the pre-bedtime child." The development will occur only as he feels himself in the quiet, understanding presence of a person who also knows what excited feelings are.

My chief criticism of parent education is the educator's habit of suggesting that children's problems are different from other human problems.

By implying that Ken's pre-bedtime "overstimulation" is unlike what his mother feels when she's overexcited at her bedtime, the experts make us feel it's a mysterious malady for which they only possess the cure.

Actually bedtime overstimulation is a serious adult problem in our country—as our sales of sleeping pills well testify.

To Save GOP Necks—

Democrat Solon Dubs Soil Bank Political Slush Fund

By MAURICE G. BOEHL
Of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON—The man, who may be the next Secretary of Agriculture if the Democrats win, says the Eisenhower Administration has turned the Soil Bank program into a "political slush fund" in an effort to buy votes.

Senator W. Kerr Scott of North Carolina charges that, "The President and his Administration have turned a sound, honestly conceived program into a political campaign fund in an effort to save their necks among disgruntled farmers in the Midwest."

The Senator, who is a member of the Senate Agriculture Committee, is a farmer himself and former State Agriculture Commissioner. He claims the Administration is giving "many millions of dollars" from the Soil Bank for "phony" corn acreage reductions.

"There is no way of measuring the amount of money that's being spent for corn that was never planted or intended to be planted even without the Soil Bank," Scott charges. He quotes Department of Agriculture figures showing some 5.5 million acres of corn were taken out of production under the Soil Bank this year. He calls this amount "largely a ghost that doesn't exist" because this year's corn crop will be some 100 million bushels larger than last year.

Scott also charges the Eisenhower Administration is favoring the "politically lucrative" Midwest corn and wheat belt.

"A look at the Southern states, the cotton and tobacco belt, shows that the mass of small family-size farms of the nation received only a dribble of the Soil Bank outlay for this year," he maintains.

The rates of payments also have been set to make the Soil Bank a political tool, Scott says, pointing out they are 60 per cent of parity for corn and wheat, 50 per cent for cotton and 39 per cent for tobacco.

The North Carolina Democrat also attacks the President for "breaking his word" after his election. "And now," he adds, "after four years of turmoil, the same man is trying to convince farmers that they're just as well off as big business. In fact, to hear President Eisenhower tell it, you and I and all the rest of the farmers are just filthy with prosperity."

Your Child's Health—

Children's Eyes Need Checking Early in Life

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

I certainly do not object to cosmetics properly applied. But it is rather shocking to learn that in the United States four times as much is spent on cosmetics to beautify the eyes as is spent on research to rid the eyes of disease.

This point was brought out at the recent meeting of the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness.

The problem of obtaining the best possible vision and of preventing blindness is not exclusively a problem for adults who develop glaucoma, cataracts, or other eye disturbances. It seems to be a fairly generally accepted fact, for example, that one out of every four school-age youngsters needs some form of eye care.

This would give us about 8,000,000 children, some of whom will become blind if they do not receive care and many others who will have serious handicaps.

At least some of these children do poorly in their school work and constitute a problem right now for their teachers and their families because they cannot see well enough.

It seems obvious from this that we should intensify our efforts to find the visual defects in school children.

Much progress in this direction has already taken place. Many schools now give the children "screening" eye tests and if anything suspicious is found the parents are notified.

There was another vital point brought out by one of the speakers at the meeting. Many common visual defects, he said, including crossed eyes and near and far sightedness, are best treated in infancy and early childhood. This is before the child reaches school age.

Indeed, for some conditions there is no hesitancy in prescribing glasses for infants as young as 10 months. Crossed eyes should be attacked really early in life.

The speaker maintained that corrections of vision difficulties become increasingly difficult as the child and his eyes grow older. Appropriate treatment before school age may eliminate such visually produced problems as blurred sight, headache, double vision, irritability, tilting of the head, nervousness, and personality changes.

It is not true, he pointed out, that wearing glasses will change a child's vision or weaken his eyes. Glasses do not change the eyes. They do improve the vision, making the image clearer. They relieve what is often an abnormal effort on the part of the eye muscles and the fatigue which results.

The value of early testing of vision and early correction is illustrated by an experience mentioned by the speaker.

A six-year-old was labeled mentally retarded. Examination revealed that he was seriously far sighted and this explained his inability to learn in school. When the difficulty was corrected the educational problem was improved.

ONE EVENING AS her husband sat reading the paper and listening to the radio, a woman decided she would call a friend for a little chat. She called the number and the operator told her the line was busy. She waited awhile, until she thought surely her friend would be through with her conversation and then she called again. The line was still busy. She waited again and after quite a long time she tried once more to get her friend. The line was still busy.

"I just don't know what to think," she commented to her husband. "She never does talk very long. I don't know who she could be talking to."

"Who are you trying to call," questioned the husband, and she told him.

"Don't you think you would probably have better luck," he asked "if you would call her number instead of your own?" — H. L.

TYLER, Tex. (AP) — The state neared completion today in its efforts to put the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People out of business in Texas.

The NAACP was expected to get a chance to give its evidence this afternoon against a temporary restraining order issued Sept. 21 stopping all NAACP operations in Texas.

Picket activity at Beaumont's Lamar Tech, a state-supported school integrated this year, lessened last night after a new crack-down on pro-segregation demonstrations came out of a conference between Texas Rangers and local officers.

Alfred Lee Briscoe, a Negro student at Lamar, charged he was beaten and trampled by white pickets yesterday. He filed a charge of simple assault against H. H. Mericle of Beaumont. Trial was set for today.

At Dallas, the findings of a court of inquiry, in which two of Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd's assistants questioned six Dallas Negroes involved in the Dallas school integration suit now in Federal Court, were to be referred to the Dallas County grand jury.

NAACP attorneys at Tyler have indicated outside the courtroom that they expect a ruling against them, but say the case will be fought to the U.S. Supreme Court if necessary.

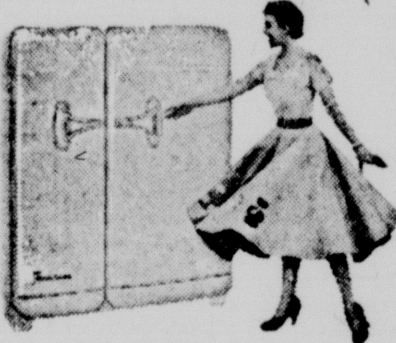

THE SEDALIA DEMOCRAT—Sedalia, Mo., Thursday, Oct. 4, 1956 7 has contended the NAACP is a profit-making organization that has been soliciting integration lawsuits.
The state also alleges that the NAACP has dabbled in politics too much for its state charter as a charitable, non-profit corporation.

Pilot Grove Boys Attend FFA Session

By Mrs. J. H. Coleman

PILOT GROVE — John Lamers, Richard Jeffress, Larry Schupp, Bobby Reuter, John Gerling and Glen Duermeier, Pilot Grove students, attended an FFA officer training meeting at Salisbury, along with 13 chapters and four state officers. They were accompanied by their chapter advisor, Virgil Walden.

The Rev. P. L. Allen and Mrs. Allen have moved from Eugene, Mo., to a house on Elsie Street, which was recently vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Kempf. Rev. Allen is pastor of the Pilot Grove Baptist Church and Mt. Nebo Church.

Mr. and Mrs. William Jamison, who recently returned from Honolulu, have been guests of her mother, Mrs. W. W. Burger. Mr. Jamison went to Joplin, where he is employed, and Mrs. Jamison joined him later.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hurster and three sons, St. Louis, were guests of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. E. I. Schilb. Mr. Hurster returned home while Mrs. Hurster remained for a longer visit. Dr. and Mrs. Enslie Schilb, Grandview, were weekend guests.

Miss Linda Heinrich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Heinrich, Jr., is enrolled as a medical student at the University of Missouri.

Pvt. Paul Schuster, who spent a 13-day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Schuster, returned to duty at Ft. Garden, Ga., where he will attend school for military police training, after completing basic training at Camp Chaffee, Ark.

Miss Margie Held, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Held, is enrolled as a freshman at Southwest Baptist College, Bolivar.

Mrs. W. D. Whalen, McAllen, Tex., was a guest of her sister, Mrs. W. S. Barnes.

Joe Muessig, St. Louis, spent his vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Muessig.

Guards May Fly Jet Fighters

Jefferson City (MPA) — Missouri's air national guard pilots may soon be flying jet fighters of the type which won an 8-1 superiority over Russian Migs in Korea.

According to a report from national guard headquarters in Jefferson City, the state's national guard squadrons may soon be switching from B-26 bombers to F-86D Sabrejets.

The B-26 is a 300 mile an hour attack bomber left over from World War II. The Sabrejet is a 600 mile an hour plus jet fighter, now considered obsolete by the air force.

The air guard was organized in Missouri in 1946 with F-51 Mustang fighters. Following the Korean War it was reorganized into light bombardment units and has used B-26 and B-25 bombers since that time.

National guard headquarters said Missouri is one of three states with air guard squadrons still equipped with conventional type aircraft. There was no word about how soon the change to jets might take place.

An informant at national guard headquarters said some of Missouri's guard pilots have already been checked out in the jet fighters. Others may have to attend air force transition training schools when the new fighters arrive.

The state's national guard air units are based at Rosecrans field at St. Joseph and at Lambert field, St. Louis.

Sedalia K of C Members Will Attend Meet

Several Sedalians plan to attend joint installation ceremonies for 1956-57 officers of six Fourth Degree assemblies of the Knights of Columbus in the western district of Missouri on Oct. 7 in Marshall. Andrew Kramer is the Faithful Navigator of the Sedalia Assembly.

Members of assemblies in Kansas City, Tipton, Sedalia, Chillicothe, Moberly and Marshall will participate.

The installation will be conducted by Bernard S. Gillis of Kansas City, master of the Fourth Degree in the western district of Missouri.

Gillis and his staff, and other Kansas Cityans, who will attend the ceremonies, have chartered a bus for their trip to Marshall.

The joint installation will exclude only the officers of assemblies in St. Joseph and Joplin. Because of the distance of those cities from Marshall, Gillis has arranged separate installations for officers of assemblies there.

The Fourth Degree is the highest degree in the Knights of Columbus. The principle of the Fourth Degree is patriotism. Formal attire is prescribed for its ceremonies.

The event in Marshall Sunday will anticipate the observance of Columbus Day, October 12. Activities planned for the day include the installation at 3 p. m., a parade through the Marshall business dis-

Missionary Circle Meets at Schupp Farm

Mrs. Earnest Schupp, Route 4, was hostess Tuesday, Sept. 25, to the Women's Missionary Circle of the Church of the Open Bible. The women met at noon for a contributive dinner with ten members and nine visitors present.

The devotions were given by Mrs. Chester Potts. Mrs. Charles Gamber read letters from missionaries in Trinidad, Jamaica, Africa and Japan.

The afternoon was spent working on a quilt, hemming tea towels and cutting out sheets for little booklets used on the various mission fields.

The next meeting will be on Oct. 16 at the home of Mrs. Arthur Scott.

at 4:30 p. m., and a banquet at 6 p. m.

Dr. Rial R. Ogilvie of Kansas City, past-master of the western district of Missouri, will speak at the banquet.
